ALBANY, N. Y., July 26.—Gov. Smith made vigorous comment today on the announcement of Robert L. Owen, former Democratic senator from Oklahoma, that he would not support Smith because of his prohibition views and his alliance with Tammany Hall.

In a formal statement, the Democratic presidential nominee declared that in 1924 during the party convention in New York, Owen had sought the support of Tammany delegates.

"His hostility to Tammany Hall must have grown up in his heart in the last four years," Smith said. "In 1924 he was not only willing to accept its support, but quite anxious to get it."

Owen announced yesterday that he was bolting the party on Smith's account, when interviewed by newspaper men at the New York hotel suite of Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire, who is in charge of Republican campaign activities in the East.

It is the outlet of his daily press conference today Gov. Smith was asked if he had any comment to make on Owen's announcement.

Calling for mimeographed copies of his comments on Owen's declaration, the Democratic nominee said he had read Owen's statement and found it "quite amusing and interesting."

"Naturally, I am sorry to see Senator Owen leave the Democratic party because of my nomination," the statement stated. "However, he is a free American citizen and has the right to choose the party that best suits his ideas."

"My greatest regret comes from the reasons advanced because it compels me to question his sincerity."

"In 1924, when the national convention at Madison Square Garden was deadlocked, Senator Owen called to see me at the Manhattan Club and asked me to use my influence to secure for him the support of the Tammany delegation."

He stated that with that support he felt he could get considerable delegates from other states for himself as a candidate for the nomination for President. His hostility to Tammany Hall must have grown up in his heart in the last four years. In 1924, he was not only willing to accept such support, but quite anxious to get it."

German Pilot Thought to Have Set American Record.

By the Associated Press.

NORTH TRURO, Mass., July 26.—An unofficial "American record" for a glider flight was established today when Peter Hesselbach, German pilot, remained aloft 57 minutes in a solo flight above the cliffs of the Cape Cod coast at Highland Light, near here.

The glider took off at 10:30 a. m. from the edge of the bluff overlooking the Atlantic near the lighthouse. It reached a height estimated at 300 feet above the sea and swung back and forth over the water at varying heights, finally landing on the golf links beside the lighthouse. The only other American record for a glider is 45 minutes, established in 1911 by Orville Wright when he and his brother, Wilbur, were experimenting. The world's record for gliders was established in 1925, many where the motorless planes were developed as a result of the airplane restrictions placed upon the Germans after the war. The record for a solo flight is more than 24 hours, set by Hesselbach, who held the record for more than five hours, for a sustained flight with a passenger.

LONDON, July 26.—Broken-hearted by the rejection in the House of Commons of the prayer book which he sponsored, and shattered in health by the struggle and by the crisis in which he leaves the Church of England, the 80-year-old Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Randall Davidson, has resigned the primacy of all England to take effect Nov. 12, his golden wedding day.

His successor will be Cosmo Lang, the Archbishop of York, although this has not been announced officially. This prelate, whose years are 64, whose health is poor, and whose resignation was expected for some time, has been unable to carry the prayer book to two defeats in the House of Commons, must try to solve the present deadlock between the church and state or face the prospect of disestablishment with the loss of the church revenues.

The previous eight indictments had all been executed by the arrest of the persons named with the exception of one against "Charles M. Black," charged as an associate of Anthony P. Foley in the operation of gambling houses and which is said to be a fictitious name.

Today the jury questioned, but one witness, Tobe Geno, City Marshal of Florissant, St. Ferdinand Township, who charged last winter that he was kidnapped and threatened by Deputy Constables of that township.

There was no session yesterday. Tuesday the jury questioned three employees in the office of Recorder of Deeds Schmid, and Alex Block, a title examiner.

CHICAGO, July 26.—Federal prohibition agents raided the Shakespeare Avenue Police Station on the Northwest Side last night and seized several bottles which they said contained alcohol, then went to a store adjoining the police station and seized a quantity of beer and whisky which the agents said was made on the premises.

Capt. Patrick J. Harding of the Shakespeare station said the alcohol was for rubbing purposes only and was used by the police hands.

He said the police did not know liquor was being sold next door. The agents made the raid after two of their number posing as Federal prisoners had spent a night in the police station cells last week and declared they purchased liquor from a janitor.

John Lunsman, eccentric and penurious Civil War veteran, who died June 18 after a fight on an ash hill, left an estate worth $143,000, according to an inventory filed in Probate Court yesterday.

The estate includes personal property listed at $90,765, including corporation stock of a face value of $29,000, worth $31,720 at current prices. The larger items are 400 shares of American Telephone and Telegraph Co., 150 shares of Meloney Electric Co., 80 shares of Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., and $29,000 in bonds. Three parcels of real estate, worth $30,000, are listed also.

By the Associated Press.

ROCKFORD, Ill., July 26.—Undamaged by their unsuccessful attempt today, Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, crew of the airplane Greater Rockford, will go ahead with plans for a flight to Stockholm, Sweden, as soon as their plane, badly damaged in a forced landing, is rebuilt.

The plane was partially wrecked in a forced landing in a cornfield shortly after the take-off early today when the flyers were unable to gain altitude with a heavy load against unfavorable atmospheric conditions in the hilly region near Rockford.

The undercarriage was smashed and one wing was shattered. An examination revealed none of the instruments was damaged. The plane was dismantled and loaded on trucks. It will be taken back to the Stinson factory at Northville, Mich., to be rebuilt.

Hassell and Cramer made an easy take-off with their heavy plane from the airport here and were flying well, they said, until they encountered adverse flying conditions in the hills. Hassell said they kept trying to gain altitude but failed and when they realized they would have to land they tried to bring the plane down in the corn field, but it side-slipped and crashed.

FAILS TO SWIM FROM IRELAND TO SCOTLAND

Mercedes Gleitz Gives Up Attempt After More Than 14 Hours.

By The Associated Press.
PORT PATRICK, Scotland, July 26.—Miss Mercedes Gleitz, London typist, abandoned an attempt to swim the North Channel between Donaghadee, Ireland and Port Patrick, Scotland, today after more than 14 hours. Miss Gleitz gave up when about 12 miles off the Irish coast. The coldness of the water caused her to abandon the effort after swimming slightly more than 14 hours. She started from the Irish fishing village at 2:57 a. m. for Port Patrick, 22 miles away, by the old royal sailing route. Hugh Muir, an expert on tidal conditions, asserted, however, that the treacherous currents would force her to swim three times the distance. It is recognized that the stretch of water offers a swimmer much greater handicaps than the English Channel.

WEEKS $1,000,000 OF SAM LAZARUS' ESTATE AS HIS SON

Sprinkler Wagon Driver of Corvallis, Ore., Files Suit Asserting Railroad Capitalist Was His Father.

SAYS PARENT ASKED HIM TO USE NAME

Silas A. Lazarus Declares Millionaire Treated Him Paternally and Provided Him With Money.

A 41-year-old driver of a sprinkler wagon for the City of Corvallis, Ore., filed suit in Federal Court today for $1,000,000 of the late Sam Lazarus, asserting that he is an illegitimate son of Lazarus and that, during his life, Lazarus recognized him as his son.

Lazarus, a railroad director and capitalist, died March 5, 1926, leaving a widow and daughter. The man who says he is Lazarus' son and who uses the name, Silas A. Lazarus, was not mentioned in the will, as he says Lazarus promised, and since he has been endeavoring to effect some compromise of his claim with the widow, Mrs. Lillie Lazarus. The suit is evidence of the failure of the negotiations.

In his petition, the claimant requests the court to order Lazarus' estate to pay him $1,000,000. He was born in Sherman, Tex., Sept. 8, 1886, and at all times since his birth has been known to members of his maternal family as the son of Sam Lazarus. He has been known to the public as Lazarus, and that he was treated by Lazarus early in his life "with paternal love and affection" and that Lazarus aided him in providing for his needs.

Until 1925, he used the name of Lazarus, the maiden name of his mother, but in that year, his mother married and he took the name of his stepfather and became Silas A. Samples.

In 1925, he advised Sam Lazarus of his intention to be married and declared that Lazarus, then acknowledging his paternity, asked Samples to be married under the name of Lazarus and henceforth to bear that name. If he did so, Lazarus promised to recognize him as his son, he asserts.

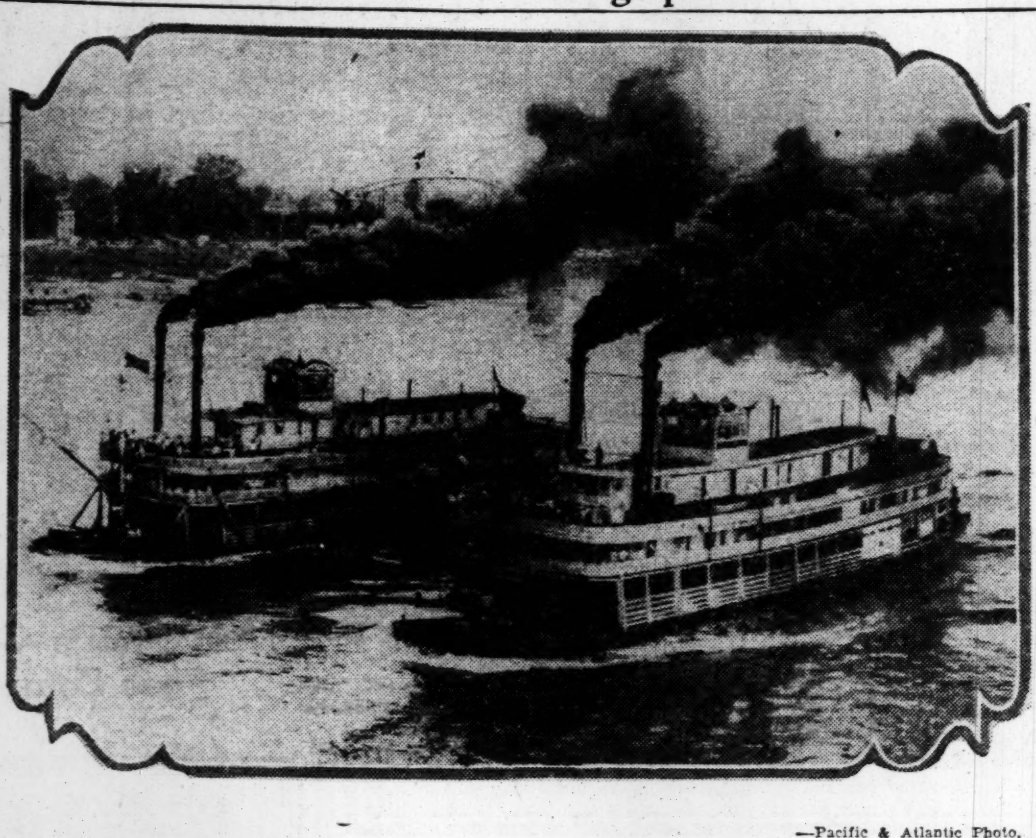

Married as Silas Lazarus. Accordingly, May 6, 1925, he obtained a marriage license in St. Louis, under the name of Silas A. Lazarus, to marry Marie N. Smith, his present wife, who is the mother of his two sons and daughter. From time to time, in case of need, he declares, Lazarus provided him with money, the total being about $100,000.

The Lazarus will made no mention of the son and the only heirs recognized were the widow and daughter. The claimant now asserts he is entitled to one-third of the estate, amounting to that extent, or about $1,000,000.

The law firm of Diehm, Fleckenstein & Burch represents the claimant.

"It's a huge joke," said M. N. Smith, Sam Lazarus' personal friend and attorney. "But it's what every rich man may expect when he dies."

Bafunno and eight other men were arrested last May 1 when distributing circulars calling the attention of the public to the substitution of "canned" music in place of the regular orchestra at the Senate. Bafunno, a musician, against the Board of Police Commissioners and the owners of the Senate, motion picture theater, for alleged unlawful arrest and prosecution.

Magoon and Freund, replying to questions of John P. Leahy, attorney for Bafunno, denied that, as charged in the suit, they or any other member of the Police Department had conspired with Jake and Frank Leventhal and Charles Goldmann, owners of the Senate, to have Bafunno and the others arrested.

Leahy plans to take the deposition of Chief of Police Gerk. Assistant Chief Glasco and the theater owners at the next hearing, set for Sept. 11.

FORMER DEPUTY SHERIFF HELD FOR KILLING CORNELIUS KIMES

By The Associated Press.
WEWOKA, Ok., July 26.—Jack Sparks, former Seminole County Deputy Sheriff, was bound over for trial in District Court Tuesday at the conclusion of his preliminary hearing on a charge of murder growing out of the fatal shooting of Cornelius Kimes, father of Matthew and George Kimes, youthful Oklahoma outlaws, now serving life sentences in the State penitentiary.

Shaw Nelms, who was charged jointly with Sparks, was released. The State questioned several witnesses in an effort to prove that Sparks deliberately killed Kimes in a liquor raid. Nellie Kimes, the dead man's daughter, said her father was killed as he ran from the deputies.

Sparks testified he killed the Kimes in self defense. He said Kimes had shot at Nelms and had pointed his gun at Sparks when the deputy fired.

NOVELIST BODENHEIM ARRESTED BY MISTAKE

New York Detective Thought He Was Still Sought for Questioning in Girl's Death.

By The Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 26.—An overzealous detective early today took into custody Maxwell Bodenheim, poet and novelist, but released him as soon as his superior learned about it.

Bodenheim had been sought for a time by police for questioning in connection with the suicide of Miss Virginia Drew, his literary protégée, but was later absolved of all connection with her death. The novelist, who had disappeared, was found at Provincetown, Mass., where Dr. Martin Loeb of this city also found his daughter, Miss Gladys Loeb, another of Bodenheim's literary protégées, who had disappeared from her home.

Bodenheim, after a meeting in Provincetown with Dr. Loeb, again dropped from public notice until Detective James Sullivan saw him in an Upper West Side dance hall. The man, however, insisted he was not the man sought by the police. He said he was beginning to write another novel and had had "enough experiences and troubles in the last six days to fill two novels."

EIGHT NEW WARNING LIGHTS AT GRADE CROSSINGS AUTHORIZED

Public Service Board Grants Application of Manufacturers' Railway Co. to Install Signals.
JEFFERSON CITY, July 26.—The State Public Service Commission yesterday granted an application of the Manufacturers' Railway Co. of St. Louis for authority to install automatic flasher-light warning signals at eight grade crossings of its tracks with streets and street railway tracks in St. Louis.

The crossings at which the railway was authorized to install the signals are Lyon and Dorcas streets, Second street south of Dorcas, Second and Dorcas streets, Ninth and Arsenal streets, Eleventh street south of Lynch, Pestalozzi street at a point 68 feet south of Pestalozzi, and Ninth street at point 275 feet south of Pestalozzi.

Several months ago the commission authorized the railway company to install three such signals at Broadway and Potomac street, Broadway and Dorcas street and Seventh and Dorcas streets. The City of St. Louis filed objections to the installations, contending the type of traffic protection to be provided was in the hands of the city. After the application for the eight additional installations was filed by the company in May, the city in June filed a statement that it had no objections and that the signals already in use apparently were giving satisfactory results.

MORE CAMP STUDENTS GO ON RIFLE RANGE

Second Battalion to Shoot for Record Tomorrow—Boxing Program Tonight.

Men of the Second Battalion of the Citizens' Military Training Camp at Jefferson Barracks tomorrow will shoot for record on the post's rifle range in an effort to excel the marks set by men of the First Battalion, Tuesday afternoon. Second Battalion men spent today an extra preliminary practice firing.

Many of the student soldiers at the camp this year are completing the four-year course of summer training and will be eligible for examination for appointment as Second Lieutenants in the Organized Reserves.

These men, rated as "blue" students, are now serving as non-commissioned officers in the training camp companies and are under the close supervision of Jefferson Barracks officers. At the conclusion of the camp, they can take the reserve examination.

Last night's boxing bouts attracted more than 1000 visitors to St. Louis. An amateur show was also presented by the students. Boxing programs will be held tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday night, and an extra entertainment program has been added for tonight.

LIQUOR RUNNER GETS LIFE FOR MURDER OF CONSTABLE

Admits at Trial in Arkansas That He Escaped From Texas Prison.
ASHDOWN, Ark., July 26.—Charles Frazier, notorious gunman, must serve a life sentence for the murder of Constable Roy Selman of Foreman, Ark. The jury returned the verdict today.

Selman was shot to death on the night of June 19 when he attempted to interfere in the sale of liquor to Negroes by a white man alleged to have been Frazier. Frazier took the stand yesterday and admitted that he was running liquor across the Arkansas-Oklahoma border on the night of June 19 when he was captured by a posse headed by Sheriff Hooper of Sevier County. Frazier admitted that he had twice escaped from Huntsville prison in Texas and from the Miller County jail in Arkansas. He denied participating in the slaying of a prison guard at Huntsville and also that he had any part in the killing of Henge Gibbs, Texarkana policeman, in July, 1926.

The State introduced two letters dictated to other prisoners by Frazier in which he asked that a sister and a former prison companion send him saws and be ready to aid him.

$250,000 SUIT OVER LOVE OF OPERA SINGER

Mrs. Vernon Stiles Accuses Wife of Copper Magnate of Alienating Husband's Affections.

By The Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 26.—Vernon Stiles, grand opera singer, today faced a divorce action, and the allegation of his wife that he had abandoned domestic fidelity and the postoffice stage successes had given him, for a small real estate business and love-making to Mrs. John R. MacGinniss, young wife of the Greenwich (Conn.) copper magnate.

His wife, the former Hester Hoff of Buffalo, N. Y., concert pianist, brought the action yesterday together with a suit for $250,000 damages for alienation of affections against Mrs. MacGinniss, to whom she charged Stiles' love had been bartered.

Mrs. Stiles, who became the wife of Vernon Stiles in 1923 after a vocal courtship, told in her complaint of alleged indiscretions of her husband which included a reported rendezvous with Mrs. MacGinniss at Lake Arrowhead, Cal.

Petition Tolls of Escapade.
The complaint said Mrs. Stiles returned suddenly from an Eastern trip, and found her husband's room strewn with a woman's garments. Subsequently she said she accompanied her attorney and two detectives to Lake Arrowhead, where they discovered Mrs. MacGinniss in company with her husband.

Stiles, whose singing was a sensation in America and Europe 20 years ago, at first refused to say how he would meet the actions. His only remark was "Is that all my wife is saying about me?" I thought it would be worth while to hear.

Later he indicated he might raise his voice in defense of Mrs. MacGinniss if the suit against her came to trial.

"Silly," says woman's attorney. A sister of Mrs. MacGinniss, Mrs. Theodore Persons, declared her sister would fight the charges, but J. S. Lewiston, Los Angeles attorney for the family, said they were "so silly as not to warrant an answer."

MacGinniss, prominent New York and Buffalo, Mont. banker and copper holdings in Montana, Miss. and later served as a Democratic National Committeeman. He has been in California since 1919, British Columbia and Mexico.

Mrs. MacGinniss was Miss Elois of Ocala, Fla., before her marriage in 1903.

Stiles, formerly of Kansas City, who entered grand opera in 1907, carried the lead role in "Faust" at the Royal Opera in Vienna in 1909, and was credited with other European successes. His American successes include "Robin Hood" and "Madam Butterfly." Once he left the concert stage to live on a small Arizona ranch, and later was reported filling a vaudeville contract. One of his earlier ambitions was to popularize English singing of grand opera, which he championed for many years.

ICELESS REFRIGERATOR CAR BRINGS CONSIGNMENT OF FISH

Commission Merchants Inspect First to Arrive in St. Louis Using New Cooling Process.

An iceless refrigerator car, the first of its kind to appear in St. Louis, was inspected by 100 commission merchants and others yesterday in the yards of the St. Louis Refrigerator and Cold Storage Co. The refrigeration plant is similar to that in gas refrigerators made for household use.

The axiom of physics, that evaporation is a cooling process, is the basis of the cooling process. A silicate compound capable of absorbing large quantities of vapor from liquid sulphur dioxide is employed. Gas tanks suspended below the body of the car automatically supply the fuel to heat the silicon compound at intervals, driving off the vapor, which is condensed and used again, and the evaporation process is resumed. The temperature is thermostatically controlled and pipes throughout the car insure even temperatures.

When opened yesterday in St. Louis the temperature inside the car was 14 degrees. It carried a consignment of 30,000 pounds of fish.

ROBBERS KILL BANK CLERK IN AN ATTEMPTED HULPO Flee Without Loot When Woman in Oakland (Cal.) Depository Begins Screaming.
By The Associated Press.
OAKLAND, Cal., July 26.—Three men yesterday attempted to rob the Seventh Street branch of the Oakland Bank of Savings, shot and killed W. C. McFarlan, bank clerk, fled without loot when a woman began screaming, and were captured after a mile chase through the streets.

The prisoners are Joe Murray, alias "Red" O'Brien, escaped convict from Folsom prison; Louis Lazarus, sought by police for participating in the murder of Dr. San Francisco detectives and Sheriff Petray of Sonoma County, in a pitched fight at Santa Rosa in 1920 and George Costello, former convict.

The robbers rushed into the bank brandishing pistols and ordering everyone to keep quiet. Two stayed by the door, while the third walked to McFarlan's cage and ordered him to hold up his hands. McFarlan attempted to alarm his cage window. At that moment Mrs. Catherine Dolan, a depositor, screamed. There was the flash of a pistol, a loud report, and McFarlan fell motionless wounded. He died shortly after arrival at a hospital.

The robbers were captured after their automobile collided with a truck.

BRAKES SLIP, BACKING AUTO KILLS CHILD IN DRIVEWAY

Machine Had Been Parked in Driveway and Boy Was Playing Near It.

Eugene Pearson, 9 years old, son of Mrs. Florence Pearson, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon when the brakes on an automobile parked in a driveway alongside the Pearson home, 6745 Waldemar avenue, failed to hold and the machine backed over him. He died several hours later of internal injuries at the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium.

The automobile was parked on an incline in the driveway by Charles Spradlin, a roomer at the Pearson home. When last seen the boy was playing near the car.

Mrs. Mary Chambers, 51, suffered fractures of both legs and a broken left leg when Chambers lost control of his automobile on a hill on Denny road in St. Louis County yesterday, causing the machine to upset. They reside on the Diehlmann road in St. Louis County.

SEIL FELL UNCONSCIOUS WHILE WORKING ON TOP OF A TROLLEY POLE, and the possibility of electrocution was suggested, but no indication of this was found. A company superintendent said he had been drinking too much ice water.

A man in a Ford coupe disappeared with Miss Sybil Mahn, 18 years old, from in front of an oval factory at De Soto, Mo., at 2 p. m. yesterday, her father, Mr. Mahn of De Soto, told police three hours later at the Laclede Avenue Station. He asked for a police search in St. Louis.

He gave descriptions of the two, and said he thought the man formerly was employed as a taxicab chauffeur in St. Louis, but quit three weeks ago.

SECOND MAN ATTACKED IN GRANITE CITY PLANT

Peter Makarewicz Beaten In Same Place Where Workman Was Slain Friday.

A second man was found today under the 400-pound trap-door in the melting room of the Hoyt Metal Co. plant in Granite City where last Friday the crushed body of a workman of the night shift, who apparently had surprised robbers in the department, was discovered.

The foreman of the melting plant, Peter Makarewicz, 44 years old, of 3940 North Twentieth street, St. Louis, was the second victim. He was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital unconscious. Physicians found a wound in his head which appeared to have been inflicted from behind with a blunt instrument.

Police were informed by workmen who found Makarewicz that he said he was in the basement under the melting room, firing the furnace, when the lights suddenly went out and he was struck on the head.

Both assaults occurred shortly after midnight, an hour at which the melting room is usually deserted. The first victim, Julius Kasetka, 56, of 1216 North Twelfth street, St. Louis, who died of a crushed chest and skull fracture, had a deep wound in the head which physicians declared had been caused by a sharp instrument, possibly a hatchet. Near his body workmen found a hatchet which was not stolen.

Makarewicz was one of the men who found Kasetka's body and was a witness at the inquest. He related that the melting room had previously been raided by robbers and substantiated the robbery theory by reporting that a pig of tin, valued at $40, had been taken from a truck in the melting room and set on the floor.

There was nothing to indicate the presence of robbers when Makarewicz was found today. The iron door is used to cover a coal bin in the basement below. When closed it rests flush with the floor and when open it leans against a wall. Experiments made last Saturday showed that two men were required to push the door shut in order to crush a man beneath it.

GRAND-LEADER

26 ASPIRANTS FOR JUDGESHIP SPEAK TO WOMEN VOTERS

Candidates for Nine Circuit Bench Nominations Tell of Their Qualifications at City Club Luncheon.

MIX CITES RECORD OF APPEALED CASES

Seven of Eight Republican Incumbents Seeking Re-Election Make Two-Minute Addresses.

Twenty-six of the 47 Republican and Democratic candidates for the nine nominations of each party for Circuit Judgeships made 2-minute speeches before the League of Women Voters, at luncheon at the City Club yesterday, presenting their own claims to office. With varying degrees of reluctance, all confided their special fitness for the bench. Seven of the eight Republican incumbents seeking to be returned to court were on the program.

Republicans and Democrats were called on alternately and alphabetically. Excerpts of their remarks follow:

Campbell Allison (Rep.)—"The Judge should determine the difference between the letter of the law and the great experience of jurisprudence lying behind it and giving it force."

George P. Burleigh (Dem.)—"I am glad I am a Democrat because any one of the Democratic candidates is fit for the bench."

Says More Judges Are Needed. Charles P. Armbruster (Rep.)—"I feel I possess the qualifications necessary to fill the office. . . . We need more Judges."

James M. Douglas (Dem.)—"I am here as one of the nine Democratic candidates endorsed by the Bar Association, asking for your support."

Arthur H. Bader (Rep.)—"A man can say what he likes about himself but one of the best things is what his associates say. The Bar Association indorsed me."

C. Mort Ewalt (Dem.)—"My slogan, from the country paper with which I learned to read, is: 'Pledge but to truth, to liberty and law; no favor always us and no fear shall awe.'"

Police Judge Clyde C. Beck (Rep.)—"Of young people of college age, 255,000 are in prison and 250,000 in college, because urban youth is politically exploited as justice is swapped for political favor. Thus youth too frequently is first made a political chattel, then a criminal."

Green Urges All to Vote. James F. Green (Dem.)—"During eight years as Judge of another Missouri circuit I was called frequently to St. Louis to preside over the courts here, and when I finished my term, the bar of the circuit adopted a resolution praising me. . . . I want to stress the importance of being sure to vote."

James G. Blaine (Rep.)—"I started my career at the age of 12 as a clerk in the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad legal department for $15 a month and rose to assistant general attorney, educating myself at night."

Joseph Kane (Dem.)—"A platform is made for a judicial candidate in the Constitutions of the United States and of Missouri and a Judge is bound by his oath to support the rulings of higher courts."

John W. Calhoun (Rep.), incumbent—"I have been a member of the bar for 21 years and on the bench 12 years of that time, and have tried to be fair, prompt and efficient. In the 1924 national campaign there was a slogan, 'Play Safe With Cal.' Maybe that could be repeated here and now."

Samuel H. Liberman (Dem.)—"Has not the time come when you have the right to demand and the courage to obtain not only honest Judges, but potentially great Judges?"

Victor H. Falkenhainer (Rep.), incumbent—"I have been before you 22 years and think I have behaved myself. If you think so, put me back on Aug. 7."

William L. Mason (Dem.)—"I would meet everybody who came before me, whether lawyers or ordinary citizens, with human justice, and in criminal cases would enforce stern justice for the protection of society."

Frank B. Grodzki (Rep.)—"I have been Provisional Judge for 12 years, approved by the Circuit Judges, and in that time have been called on to serve on the bench an aggregate of three years."

Wants Chance to Be Sacrifice. Frank C. O'Malley (Dem.)—"With other Democratic candidates I made the race before, when I had no more chance of being elected than Rabbi Harrison has of being Pope. I think we ought to be given another chance to sacrifice ourselves."

H. A. Hamilton (Rep.), incumbent—"Selection of Judges should be made on the basis of qualifications and character."

M. N. Sale (Dem.)—"When there are great Judges on the bench there are no complaints about justice. When there are Board Declares Rumor Is "Unqualifiedly False" and Union Would Violate Anti-Trust Laws.

By the Associated Press.

CASPER, Wyo., July 26.—The Board of Directors of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana has branded as "unqualifiedly false in its entirety," a report from New York concerning proposed working combination of the Indiana Standard and the Sinclair Oil Corporation.

The board, headed by Col. Robert W. Stewart, is in Casper on an inspection tour of Wyoming properties. The members will return to Chicago tomorrow in the company's airplane which brought them to Casper yesterday.

No statement was forthcoming from Stewart regarding the report from New York that he had acquired control of 51 per cent of Standard Oil stock by ownership or proxy, thus checkmating the efforts of John D. Rockefeller Jr., to force him from the leadership of the company.

The following official statement denying the Sinclair-Standard combination report was issued by the directors yesterday:

"The members of the Board of Directors of the Standard Oil Co. (Indiana), upon having their attention called to the story in the New York World of July 24 concerning a possible working combination of their company and the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Co., authorize the statement that—the story is unqualifiedly false in its entirety."

The directors said further that no such combination had ever been considered by them and that it would probably be impossible under the Sherman and Clayton acts and other laws of the United States.

Members of the board also took occasion to say that stories that the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana was contemplating a sale of its stock in the Pan American Petroleum and Transport Co. were also unwarranted.

The Standard officials today held a joint conference with directors of the Mid-West Refining Co., Standard subsidiary, visited Casper refineries and the Salt Creek oil field and attended to other routine matters.

Kimmel Favors Reform.

Karl Kimmel (Rep.)—"Kimmel has no political, religious, racial or class prejudice. He supports bonds in criminal cases only in compliance with the law, when on the bench before. He favors reform in criminal procedure and speedy punishment. The record of his court in 18 months in the criminal division was 613 convictions and 137 acquittals, when there was no crime wave or aroused public opinion."

George E. Miller (Rep.), incumbent—"I have regularly appointed women in land condemnation cases. I spoke in 22 cities on traffic problems. Every criminal case in my court that was appealed to a higher court was affirmed."

Justice of the Peace William D. Moore (Rep.)—"I am anxious to make the political freedom of women complete by having them serve on juries."

Claude O. Percy (Rep.), incumbent—"My work has been diversified since I was appointed to the bench in 1924 and elected shortly thereafter."

Renick Cites His Record. James E. Renick (Rep.)—"The only question is the qualifications of the man you put on the bench. I have practiced law for 12 years and for four years of that time served as an assistant in the office of Prosecuting Attorney."

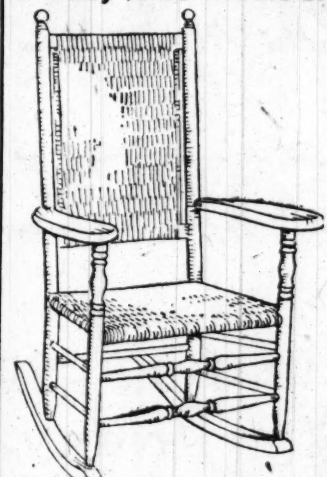

Joseph C. Schroeder (Rep.)—"The courts are the greatest of all our public offices."

Wilson A. Taylor (Rep.), incumbent—"I thought I could swipe a statement from another candidate, but I couldn't get one I could read. The less a Judge says on the bench, the better off he is. I have been on the bench 22 years, serving in all divisions."

Francis G. Sobek—"I am a member of the city's largest law firm—an Associate City Counselor in the condemnation division, helping to spend part of the $87,000,000 bond issue. If you don't like the brand of hair tonic of other judges, consider or their names, Sobek, name Sobek."

The League of Women Voters

has issued a large edition of its League Bulletin, setting forth records and qualifications of all candidates for office here.

ADMITS HE KILLED CIGERO GANGSTER NEAR E. ST. LOUIS

Don Shelton Signs Confession He Shot John Reinhardt After Quarrel in Roadhouse July 16.

Don Shelton, St. Louis police character, has signed a written confession that he shot and killed John Reinhardt, Cigero (Ill.) gangster, in an East Side roadhouse, St. Clair County authorities announced last night.

Shelton, held in the Belleville jail, is said to have confessed that he and Reinhardt quarreled in the resort at Fifty-first street and Lake drive, on the edge of East St. Louis, July 16; that they scuffled for possession of a revolver and that he shot Reinhardt; that he and several other men carried the body to an automobile, took it to a point on the Caseyville road where it was found several days later.

Before leaving the body, Shelton fired several shots into the head to make sure Reinhardt was dead, according to the confession. Working on a tip, police went yesterday to a house at 3708 State street, East St. Louis, where Shelton had been living under an assumed name. Shelton's wife said he had gone away. As police were taking the wife and a 5-year-old daughter away, the daughter inquired: "Isn't daddy coming with us?"

Police then investigated further and arrested Shelton in a nearby drug store, where he was telephoning for a moving van to take his furnishings away.

The revolver which police say was used in the killing was found wrapped in a newspaper and hidden in a chimney of the house.

Shelton will be questioned about recent holdups. The shooting in the East Side roadhouse followed quarrels over division of large sums of money.

'HOOVER APRON CLUBS' TO BE ORGANIZED AMONG WOMEN

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—"Hoover apron clubs" will be organized by Mrs. Atherton Dupuy, as an official complement to the Republican campaign to win the votes of housewives. Mrs. Dupuy, who served on the publicity staff of the Democratic National Committee in 1924, visited Republican headquarters yesterday in connection with her leadership of the Democratic dry women's Hoover clubs, but said she is "wholly independent and not formally connected with the Hoover campaign."

Thirty clubs, she said, are already formed in Massachusetts, New York, New Hampshire, Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, Colorado and Tennessee. Members of these clubs will, in turn, tour the country to organize the "apron clubs."

"Women put on their aprons for Hoover in the war," said Mrs. Dupuy today, "and they will do it again."

CHARGED WIRE KILLS WOMAN

Wife of Clarendon (Ark.) Man Was Playing With Children.

CLARENDON, Ark., July 26.—Mrs. Charles Shyrook, 26 years old, was killed at her home here yesterday when she attempted to move a radio wire that had come in contact with high-voltage light wires. Mrs. Shyrook was in the yard playing with her three daughters when she seized the charged wire, which was dangling in the way of the children's swing.

Her sister, Miss Bernice Gallows, head of the English department at Central College in Conway, went to her aid, but without avail.

Chicago Beer Baron Indicted. CHICAGO, July 25.—Joe Salita, beer baron and rival of "Scarface Al" Capone, was indicted last night by the Federal grand jury on a three-year-old charge. Salita, who has successfully dodged police for the last few months, is charged with conspiracy to transport, sell and possess beer, in violation of the prohibition law. Indicted with him are six others. They include Robert F. Adam, alleged to be a brewery official of Sayre, Pa.; a policeman, and a former Summit (Ill.) police chief. It is charged that 100 barrels of beer were shipped to Salita from Waverly, N. Y., in 1925.

Lured by Aroma of Neighbor's Tobacco

Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va. Gentlemen:

This morning I had a smoking adventure worth recording.

Next to me in the smoking car a gentleman was puffing his pipe contentedly. I was not smoking at the moment, and the aroma of his tobacco intrigued me exceedingly. For twelve years I had smoked Edgeworth without being tempted by any other brand, but the fragrance emanating from the pipe of the gentleman beside me was so agreeable that I could not resist the temptation to speak of it.

"That is wonderfully fragrant tobacco you have there," I remarked. "Would you mind telling me the name of it?"

"It is Edgeworth," he answered.

We then congratulated each other upon our mutual good taste, and I decided that I would continue to use his brand and mine.

Sincerely yours, S. H.

COOLIDGE TO SEE BALL TOURNAMENT TODAY

President to Deliver First Pitch at Superior Teams Opening Game.

By the Associated Press.

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 26.—After six weeks of secluded life, during which relatively few people saw him, President Coolidge agreed to appear today at a public ceremony and throw out the first ball at the Head-of-the-Lakes baseball tournament.

With the exception of the day of arrival and of his quick trips through town on the way to the executive offices twice a week, today's occasion was the first time Mr. Coolidge had consented to show himself to the Superior people since the beginning of his vacation. Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John, have been invited to accompany the President to the ball park.

Special arrangements have been made to receive Mr. Coolidge at the park where a box has been built for the presidential party. A brief ceremony, raising of the Stars and Stripes on a tall flag pole, will precede the game. Mr. Coolidge also was invited to review from his box the teams which will compete in the tournament.

Enjoys Open Air.

President Coolidge, according to reports emanating from Cedar Island lodge, has fallen so completely into the thrall of his favorite sport of fishing that all other vacation activities are subordinated.

Mr. Coolidge not only enjoys the fishing, but greatly appreciates the unlimited opportunity this vacation offers him for full enjoyment of the open air. In fact, it is said that in the beginning his hankering for sunshine and pure air called him on the water more than the love of angling.

Slowly, however, the sport took its hold of him until now, with an increased knowledge of casting and reeling, he is completely in the grip of the pastime.

Does Not Neglect Business. Mr. Coolidge, however, much as he likes fishing, has not allowed this to break into his rigid custom of not letting business and the duties of his office be interfered with.

Daily word is brought to him of what matters have reached the executive offices by mail or wire, and he has these brought out to the lodge for his study. Twice weekly, with no exceptions, he drives about 40 miles into Superior from the lodge for appointments and calls.

Mr. Coolidge was well pleased with his catch yesterday—eight trout ranging from two to three and one-half pounds. In his catch were almost all the kinds of trout the Brule supports—steel heads, speckled and rainbow.

The President will visit the iron ranges of Northern Minnesota Aug. 2. It was announced today.

Trip of One Day. The trip will be made on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railroad, and will take up an entire day. Leaving Superior early in the morning, the chief executive and his party will go first to Hibbing to view the famous open-pit iron mines near that city.

From Hibbing, the party will go to Virginia, where other iron mines will be inspected. The party will then return to Superior.

The trip will be President Coolidge's second departure from the immediate environs of the Summer White House on the Brule River and his executive offices here. The first trip will be next Sunday to Cannon Falls, Minn., to dedicate the William Colvill monument.

MAN, STABBED, REFUSES TO IDENTIFY TWO SUSPECTS

McCoy Sanders, 20, Refuses to Name Assaultants; One of Pair Admits Fight.

McCoy Sanders, 20 years old, 935 Morrison avenue, taken to City Hospital last night with stab wounds in the chest, shoulder and right arm, said he would identify no one when police took suspects before him.

Oliver Hipes of 1221 South Thirtieth street, who took him to the hospital, said he saw a soldier and a civilian assault Sanders. Police arrested a soldier and civilian an hour later at Fourteenth and Hickory streets. Notwithstanding Sanders' refusal of identification, the civilian, a painter, said he had had a fight with Sanders but had not stabbed him.

RUNAWAY WIFE'S BODY FOUND

Identified as That of Mrs. Carl Ballard of Muskegon, Mich.

By the Associated Press.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., July 26.—A woman's body found at the edge of a lane a short distance north of Roanoke, July 17, was identified yesterday as that of Mrs. Carl Ballard, wife of a restaurant owner of Muskegon, Mich. The identification was made by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall of Detroit. Mrs. Hall is Mrs. Ballard's sister.

Mrs. Hall said that Mrs. Ballard had left her husband and had lived at a Detroit (Mich.) rooming house with a man whom Mr. and Mrs. Hall knew as "Mickey." On the evening of July 15, two days before the body was found here, Mrs. Ballard called Hall and informed him that she intended to return to her husband.

GREENLANDERS ENVY ESKIMOS IN ALASKA

Campaign for Denmark to Open Trade Door and Afford Educational Facilities.

By the Associated Press.
COPENHAGEN, July 26.—Contrasting their lot with that of the Alaskan Eskimos under the jurisdiction of the United States, the Greenlanders are appealing to the Danish Government to open the door which has closed their land to the trade of the world for 200 years.

It is understood that Canada also will ask, through the British Foreign Office, for an open door in Greenland.

The Greenlanders are permitted to trade only with Denmark, and no commercial body except the Danish-Greenland trade monopoly is permitted to send goods to Greenland.

American, British, Norwegian and German fishing fleets which make their hauls in Greenland waters are forbidden to use Greenland harbors for any purpose. Capt. Godfred Hansen, Arctic explorer and Greenland expert, now aid to King Christian of Denmark, is leading the movement for commercial independence of the northern island. He maintains that the 200 years of Greenland's economic dependence upon Denmark has left her considerably behind the times. The Greenlanders, he argues, need merely a better education along the line of that given the Alaskan Eskimo to make him capable of competing on equal terms with the outside world.

According to the Northern Deep Sea Fishing Gazette, 200 years of Danish protection have not protected the native population or Greenland against disease or helped economically. Only one Greenland today possesses a motorboat, which means that the rest of the Eskimo hunters and fishermen have to carry on their dangerous pursuits from primitive craft.

The Alaskan Eskimos, says the Gazette, are given a wonderful schooling, which enables them to develop their native qualities and at the same time to learn English and acquire a knowledge of the outside world. The result is that in Alaska it is common for the Eskimos to be owners of big fishing schooners.

Opinions in Denmark are divided. The majority seems to think the opening up process must be gradual.

KANSAS COMMISSION DECLINES TO REVERSE LONG TRAIN ORDER

Trainmen Lose Plea to Have Part of Decision Set Aside.

By the Associated Press.
TOPEKA, Kan.—The Kansas Public Service Commission has denied the motion of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen to reverse the order of the commission's findings on which its order in the "long train" case was based.

The Supreme Court several months ago held the commission's order, issued in May, 1927, was indefinite. The order directed the six major railroads operating in Kansas to promulgate new rules and regulations in relation to manual signals "necessary and proper for successful and efficient train operation" and to maintain efficiency in air or power brakes.

When the original complaint in the case was filed with the commission by the brotherhood in January, 1926, the brotherhood contended the railroads' rules governing signals for train men were "obsolete" and that the signals could not be seen and interpreted on a 65 to 90 car train, causing "unnecessary" danger of accident or death to trainmen. Witnesses for the brotherhood testified 150-car freight trains were not uncommon in Kansas.

SEEKS RATHBONE'S PLACE

Nelson B. Layman of Duquoin in Race for Congress.

By the Associated Press.
DUQUOIN, Ill., July 26.—Nelson B. Layman, Duquoin attorney, has entered the contest for nomination as Republican candidate for Congressman-at-large to fill the place left vacant on the ticket by the death of Congressman Rathbone. Layman states that he has received assurances of support from a number of the members of the State Republican Committee which will make the nomination. Senator Deneen has endorsed Congressman Richard Yates, who was defeated in the spring primary by Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, and Congressman Rathbone, and the contest seems at this time to be between Yates and the Duquoin man. It is expected that a call for a meeting of the State committee to make the nomination will be issued shortly.

MUSIC CONTESTS AT FAIR

SEDALIA, Mo., July 26.—Entries in music contests at the Missouri State Fair, Aug. 13 to 25, have been coming in from all parts of the State. Mrs. Dana Daman of Sedalia is superintendent of this department and will direct the music contest for juniors, to be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 21 and 22, in the woman's building at the fair grounds. This event will be under auspices of the Missouri Federation of Music Clubs, of which Mrs. E. F. Yancey of Sedalia is chairman of State and county fairs' music, and Mrs. Anna Huerfano Hamilton, Auxvasse, Mo., field worker. Applications from contestants in the music events must be received by Mrs. Daman Aug. 11.

BOTH SIDES GET MORE TIME IN FIGHT OVER HIGHER GAS RATES

Public Service Board Allows Until Aug. 10 for Filing of Briefs by City and Company.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 26.—An extension of time for the filing of briefs by the Laclede Gas Light Co. of St. Louis in support of its application for an increase in gas rates in St. Louis, and by the city of St. Louis in opposition to the increase, was granted yesterday by the State Public Service Commission. Both sides were given until Aug. 10 to file their principal briefs and until Aug. 15 to file reply briefs.

Both sides have indicated a desire to submit oral arguments to the Commission, as the case was not heard by the full commission. The time for submission of the arguments will be set after the briefs are filed. Hearings were commenced last month on the company's application for authority to increase rates approximately 18 per cent for St. Louis gas consumers, the proposed increase falling heaviest on the domestic or household consumers. The increase, if granted, would add about $1,400,000 annually to the bills of gas consumers.

HICKMAN ASKS FOR REHEARING

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 26.—William Edward Hickman, through his attorneys, yesterday made a plea for a rehearing by the State Supreme Court of his appeal on his conviction of kidnaping and slaying of 13-year-old Marian Parker. In a brief of 87 pages, the youth's attorneys set forth 10 points of law on which error is claimed in the Supreme Court's denial of the appeal.

O. J. Page to Undergo Operation. SPRINGFIELD, Mo., July 26.—O. J. Page, who withdrew last week as a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator was taken to Rochester, Minn., last night where he will undergo an operation. He has been seriously ill for several weeks.

H. S. CAULFIELD'S
OZARKS STRENGTH IS SURPRISING

Anti-Boss Crusade of Bennett and Schneider Appear to Have Made Little Impression on Voters.

By CURTIS A. BETTS,
Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WEST PLAINS, Mo., July 26.—Republicans in the partisan Republican Ozark counties do not appear to be greatly disturbed by the campaign denunciations of Henry S. Caulfield as a boss-controlled candidate for the nomination for Governor. The anti-boss crusade of his opponents, William R. Schneider and Lieut. Gov. Bennett, seemingly have lined up only a few voters for Bennett, who otherwise would have gone to Caulfield and few if any for Schneider.

This is territory in which Bennett naturally would have his greatest strength. It is tributary to his home county of Greene and is dry. One might have been justified in believing that a dry candidate, such as Bennett, who also was a rural candidate, would sweep the district, and that has been the claim of the Bennett supporters. But it does not seem to be justified, though Bennett has a very extensive following all through this part of the State and it is through here that his vote will be the heaviest. It does not appear, however, that the organization Republicans, nearly all of whom are supporting Caulfield, have let the situation get away from them, and while Bennett may carry some of the counties in the Ozark region, there is no widespread anti-boss or anti-Caulfield sentiment. When that is the existing situation in a Republican primary it may generally be said that the organization and the bosses will be able to control their county's vote for their candidate.

Patterson Is Popular.
It was true two years ago, when David M. Proctor and ex-Senator Williams contested for the Republican nomination for Senator. The bosses and the organization Republican workers here, as in most parts of the State, supported Williams, while Proctor depended upon the fact that he was a dry candidate and opposed by the bosses. Williams carried this, Howell County, by less than 200 votes over Proctor. It may be that Bennett will come as close to defeating Caulfield in this county, but there is nothing to indicate he will carry it.

On the senatorship this year, Proctor will have a difficult time doing as well against Roscoe Patterson of Springfield as he did against Williams. Patterson has practiced law through much of the Ozark region and has been popular. In Howell County he is expected to be particularly strong through the influence of B. L. Rinehart, a widely known and popular young lawyer of West Plains, who recently was appointed by Patterson to be an Assistant United States District Attorney in Patterson's office in Kansas City.

Collet Has Little Support.
For the Democratic nominations, Charles M. Hay apparently will sweep this region. Reed and anti-Reed Democrats, wet and dry, are supporting him, and if his opponent, James A. Collet has any material support, one might almost say any support, it is remaining very quiet.

This is looked upon as territory friendly to Francis M. Wilson for the nomination for Governor. Wilson has the support of the working politicians, and his opponent, State Senator A. L. McCawley, has done no work in Howell County. There virtually is no interest here in the Wilson-McCawley contest and a very little organization work by McCawley might turn the tide in him, but that work has not been done for him, and there has been a small amount of work for Wilson, hence this is Wilson territory.

Considerable interest has been manifest in the contest between Secretary of State Becker and State Treasurer Stephens for the Republican nomination for Secretary of State. While farther to the west in the State Stephens appeared to have something the better of Becker, through here Becker seems to be in the lead.

Negro Pastor Arrested.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause. Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt found the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. He tried it in 1000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 95 percent and then decided it should be sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

AIRPORT WILL BRING PLANE FACTORIES HERE

Bond Issue Step Toward Developing National Aviation Center, Lon Sanders Says.

The $2,000,000 airport bond issue proposal to be submitted to the voters on Aug. 7, is the first step toward making St. Louis the center of airplane manufacturing activity in the United States, Lon Sanders, chairman of the speakers' division of the Municipal Airport Bond Issue Committee declared today at a Real Estate Exchange luncheon at the American Annex Hotel.

"The passing of the bond issue and an energetic pursuit of manufacturing activities will make St. Louis to the air industry what Detroit is to the automobile business," he said. "St. Louis has only to develop its naturally splendid geographical location to become the country's air leader, in transportation as well as in manufacturing."

From now until the night of Aug. 6, the eve of the election, Municipal Theater audiences will be addressed nightly by Municipal Airport Bond Issue Committee speakers urging passage of the proposition.

One of the first to see the plane was Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, who had been riding nervously up and down the pier. Tunney and his companions stepped from the plane, after it had taxied near the pier, to a speed boat which carried them the rest of the way.

Tunney Greeted by Brother.
Tunney was greeted on the pier by his brother, Detective Thomas Tunney of the police force. The champion was dressed in a Scotch plaid suit with cap to match. He waved to the crowd and then sped away in an automobile to the home of a friend.

He declined to say who this friend was, explaining that he wanted to remain in seclusion during the day and get as much rest as possible before the fight. He came to New York in the yacht Phantom, belonging to Joseph Holbrook of Red Bank, N. J. The 60-mile trip from Fair Haven was completed in two hours.

He will have an advantage of 11 1/2 pounds over Tunney. Weighing in this afternoon at the Yankee Stadium, scene of the battle, Tunney weighed 192 and Heeneey 203 1/2.

Both in Perfect Physical Shape.
Boxing Commission surgeons pronounced both in perfect physical shape.

At the weighing-in ceremony, purple tights were assigned to Tunney, who prefers the royal shade when he cannot have white, such as he wore in his two fights against Dempsey. Heeneey will appear in black trunks trimmed with red.

As Tunney hurried back to his dressing room he passed Heeneey. Both smiled and nodded.

"Hello, Tom," said Tunney, and the challenger came back with a cheery "Hello, Gene."

This was not the first time the champion and the challenger had met, at a distance, today. Shortly after the champion landed in C. Y. Bob's amphibian plane at the Yacht Club, Tunney was driving up Riverside Drive on his way to the Yankee Stadium. His car suddenly overtook the one in which Heeneey was riding to the stadium.

Recognition was immediate and complete. Heeneey half rose in his car and shouted, "Cheerio." Gene returned the greeting as his automobile tore past.

RICKARD FACING FINANCIAL LOSS

By JOHN E. WRAY,

Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch

NEW YORK, July 26.—The most nervous man in the community this morning is neither Gene Tunney, who defends his title for the second time in his career tonight, nor Tom Heeneey, known as "Har Rock," the challenger. The man who is moping off his nervousness is George "Tex" Rickard, who seems to be more in danger of losing a knockout than either of the principals.

The reason is that Tex is facing a possible setback in his financial position, based on expert calculations may total $200,000.

With Tunney receiving $225,000 and Heeneey $100,000, with an estimated $150,000 for promotion, fight card and protection! with 10 per cent out of the gross for the Yankee Field owners; and allowing 25 per cent for State tax and Government's new "25 per cent" all tickets over $5, the net gross, for Rickard to finish out the "red ink," MUST run over $1,000,000.

To attain this, so the expert accountants who have figured it out show, today's sale must approximate $400,000, accepting his estimate.

PADDOCK'S 9.5 MARK REJECTED BY COMMITTEE

By the Associated Press.
AMSTERDAM, July 26.—Adhering to its decision outlawing tenth second stop watches, the record committee of the International Amateur Athletic Federation today turned down an application by American for recognition of Chas. Paddock's nine and five-tenths seconds performance for the 100-yard dash made in 1926 at Los Angeles. The committee recommended it, however, for inclusion among the nine and three-fifths performances when the full congress of the federation meets tomorrow.

HEENEY A HERO TO HIS FOLKS EVEN IF BEATEN

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, July 26.—The parents of Tom Heeney, the boy from "down under," who fights Gene Tunney for the heavyweight championship of the world tonight, are not worried as to the outcome of the battle, a Central News dispatch received from Auckland, New Zealand, indicated today.

"If Tom gets beaten," his mother said, "why, that's all there is to it. It wouldn't make any difference to us. We'd still be proud of him."

"I am proud to be the man who has at least reared the second best fighter in the world," was his father's modest comment. "Even if he only comes out second best, my pride won't be lessened. If Tom loses, it will have taken a champion to beat him."

NEW YORK DECLINES TO GET EXCITED OVER TONIGHT'S TITLE BOUT

TUNNEY FAVORITE OVER HEENEY AT ODDS OF 3-1; $700,000 GATE LIKELY

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 26.—Lazily and with little outward show of interest, New York turned today to the first heavyweight championship match within its boundaries in five years.

In Madison Square Garden an anxious promoter, already perturbed at the possibility of a financial loss, shivered at the thought that an airplane might not arrive. For it was through the air that Gene Tunney, of Greenwich Village, first heavyweight champion ever tried by the sidewalks of New York, came to return to his native city for his 15-round bout with Tom Heene, the gentle New Zealand blacksmith, in the Yankee stadium tonight. It was a manner of approach that was a matter of approach for Speculator, N. Y., befitting a champion who has defied every other tradition of the ring.

Heene's Feet on the Ground.
Tex Rickard, the promoter, knew just where he could find the challenger. The finest heavyweight Great Britain has produced since Ruby Robert Fitzsimmons, the spindly shanked Cornishman, slew giants with his gloved hands, awaited the call to battle on board the yacht of a friend. There was no flying for him from Fairhaven, his training camp, on the Jersey coast.

Around the city, greatest of the country's fight centers, there was little excitement over the impending struggle for the most prized of fistiana's crowns. The match seemed to have crept unawares upon the citizens without their ever realizing what was happening.

So few were the wagers recorded on the match itself that it was difficult determining the exact odds. But of 3 to 1 that Tunney would retain his title were mentioned, but no one seemed to have seen any money change hands. Greater, by far, was the wagering on the size of the gate and the probable amount of money Tex Rickard seemed destined to lose.

Persons close to Madison Square Garden finances saw little hope that the match would draw over $700,000 worth of customers into the stadium tonight. At the close of business yesterday the advance sale had picked up considerably but not enough to boost the treasury much above $500,000. Rickard, banking on a tremendous sale to-day continuing right to fight time, stood firm on his prediction that the battle would draw $1,000,000.

Needs $1,000,000 Gate to Make Money.
What with expenses running close to $700,000 including a guarantee of $250,000 to Tunney and another of $100,000 to Heene, a gate of $1,000,000 inclusive of taxes, appeared necessary to keep Rickard out of the "red." Out of every dollar pushed through the windows of his box offices, the promoter must turn over to the Federal Government 25 cents in taxes, the State government five cents, and the Yankee Stadium 10 cents for rental. All taxes are included in the ticket prices.

Heene Has Never Entered an American Ring the Favorite, Always the Underdog

Clear, cool weather was forecast for the day and night, with no hint of the rain that has spoiled dozens of outdoor shows this summer in the northeast breeze forecast. The main bout is scheduled to go on at 10 p. m. Eastern daylight time. Most of the apathy shown the contest is attributed by critics to the fact that Tunney, in performance and on paper, appears to outclass the determined but muscle-bound New Zealander. Heene, they believe, is "made" for the slashing left hand of the champion and the jolting right crosses for which the Anzac appears to have no defense but his chin.

Only once during his American invasion has Heene, the plodder, displayed a knockout punch. That was the night he disposed of the brittle-chinned Irishman from Boston, Jim Maloney, in 17 seconds of the first round. In 15 and 16 round battles with Jack Sharkey, Jack Delaney, Johnny Risko and Paulino Uzcudun, he failed to score a single knockdown and none of his opponents ever was in distress. In all these matches, just as in this, Tom was the underdog in the betting. He has never gone into an American ring a favorite.

Both in Fine Condition.
Tom will be at a distinct advantage in height and reach, and to the difficulties of a defense that consists chiefly of plugging steadily forward, head and body unprotected, but with both arms swinging in a fighter's cast aside his boxing occasionally to type. Tunney, a perfect sharp-shooter and the finest counter-puncher the heavyweight division ever has seen, is in his element. In addition the champion can cast aside his boxing occasionally to type. Tunney, a perfect sharp-shooter and the finest counter-puncher the heavyweight division ever has seen, is in his element.

A missed shot against the champion is hardly likely to cause trouble on the floor as it did in Gene's Chicago battle with the former titleholder.

Both champion and challenger will report to the fray in as perfect condition as the human physique can attain. Neither has suffered any sort of injury in training.

Tom Heene Wonders if He Will Be the Next

"Tonight I'll Be Champion"—Heene; I'm at My Peak Today, Says Tunney

By Tom Heene
Challenger for World's Title.
(As Told to a Representative of the Post-Dispatch.)
(Copyright, 1928.)

NEW YORK, July 26.—This, as they used to say in Germany, is the day. This morning I woke up after a fine sleep out in the country as plain Tom Heene, who came here 17 months ago with never a thought about fighting for the championship on July 26, 1928. But that is the way it came and Heene's o. k. with me.

Tonight I will go to bed as Tom Heene, a champion of the world, and it will be up to somebody else after that to knock me off the throne. That may sound like boasting; but you can't blame a man for wishing for the best, especially when he feels it in his bones.

I know I'm in good shape. I've worked hard enough, him. I was tough and I was fed up with it but maybe tonight there'll come a time when I'll be glad Jimmy Heene, my trainer, and Charley Harvey and John Mortimer, my managers, made me sweat. But I'll never forget that six weeks of sticky weather.

Then, you can't tell me that any man can fight twice in three years like Tunney has and still be ready to fight as I am going to make Tunney fight tonight. Old Tom is going to be in there from bell to bell. They say I can't box, but I'll be there, just the same, when it's all over.

How will I fight Gene? I don't know. I'll start with my usual style, as I've always done; if that doesn't go—if I find myself taking them on the chin coming in, then I'll change.

If he is still there in the twelfth round I am going to shoot the works, as the saying goes, and put everything I've got in an effort to lay the champion on the floor.

There won't be any long counts this year because the rules of the New York Commission will see to that.

And there won't be any holding. After my fight with Delaney the commission made a rule against holding.

Sammy Baker beats Di Vodi on a foul.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 26.—Sergeant Sammy Baker, Mitchell Field soldier, defeated Di Vodi on a foul in the fifth round of their 10-round bout at Ebbett's Field last night.

The fight was fairly even up to the time the foul came. Baker weighed 145 1/2 pounds and Di Vodi 145.

In the 16-round semifinal, James J. Braddock of Jersey City, lightweight champion, fought to a draw with Nando Tassi of Italy.

The winner of the scrap was scheduled to be the next opponent of Leo Lomax.

André Roufus of France got the decision over Vic Burrows in a third 10-round encounter.

Jack Dempsey Tells Cardinal Players Heene Has Chance

From a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 26.—"I think Heene is being underestimated in the Tunney fight."

The speaker was former Champion Jack Dempsey and he was addressing some breakfast guests in his apartment at the Belmont. The guests were Grover Cleveland Alexander and Jim Bottomley of the Cardinals.

Joe Benjamin, former lightweight boxer, Floyd Fitzsimmons, fight promoter, and the Post-Dispatch representative.

"I think you're crazy," replied Benjamin. "Tunney will not only win but he will win by a knockout."

"I think the same way Joe does about it," put in Fitzsimmons.

So did the rest of us, it developed.

"Well, I'm not outright picking Heene to win, but I still think he has an even chance and perhaps better. Heene is hard. He is fast enough to keep Tunney constantly on the move and some of the rips and cuffs he throws will land and hurt. He will get hit, but he can take it, and I'm inclined to believe that the eight or ten rounds Gene will not stand the pressure as well."

"Tunney isn't so hard a hitter. I wasn't in good shape at Philadelphia and he couldn't stop me. How is he going to stop me? If I had been in the shape against Tunney that I was against Sharkey, Tunney would not have become champion."

"If Tunney goes trying to knock out Heene, instead of fighting his regular fight, you can look for real excitement."

U. S. SECOND IN INTERNATIONAL RIFLE MATCH

By the Associated Press.

OCKENBURGH, Holland, July 26.—The United States rifle team carried off second honors in the three-day international rifle team match which concluded today. Switzerland rolled up the greatest total among the eleven nations competing in the event, 5359 points, to take first place.

This total gave the Swiss team a safe margin over the Americans, who scored 5243 points. The Swedish team gave the United States a close shave, finishing in third place only four points behind. Sweden's total was 5239.

U. S. Loses Out in Singles.
Following the Swedes by a considerable margin. Several other nations finished close together in the scoring. Fourth place, was awarded to Finland with only 5183 points. Other competitors finished in the following order: Italy, Norway, Czechoslovakia, France, Holland, Belgium and Spain.

In the individual competitions, members of the American team failed to capture a place. Ole Ericson of Sweden was proclaimed the world's champion sharpshooter for three positions (prone, kneeling and standing). Zimmerman of Switzerland was awarded second place in this competition. In small carbine shooting from the 50 meter mark, Desjardins of France won the individual title with Doctor Schnyder of Switzerland second and Zulauf of Switzerland third.

And the Winner.

Heeneey, meenie, minie mo.

Who will win it, Tom or Joe?

Win or lose, they cop the dough.

Heeneey, meenie, minie mo.

*Gene's right name.

Too True.

Even the bard has his troubles. When they leave out three words in one line on him it doesn't do the meter a bit of good. Say nothing of the rhyme.

Tom Heeneey says he has no plans. All he wants is to get the "feel" of Tunney in the ring. He will probably get it all right, but it may not feel so good after he gets it.

Continuing, Tom says perhaps the first round he will know that is to be known. And then perhaps he may not know the half of it.

It has been a long time since we have heard of a guy being so unanimously picked to gather up the secondary emoluments as this person, T. Heeneey. For that reason we wouldn't be a bit surprised to see him knock Brother

Tunney for a complete set of Shakespeare, bound in leather, only one set to a customer, a dollar down and $10 per second for 10 seconds.

On the other mitt it wouldn't far our equality to see Gene beat a tattoo on the torso of the honest blacksmith that will make him think Oscar Hammerstein has returned and is putting on a revival of the anvil chorus.

So, you can see that we have not definitely committed ourself to either side, although we have our private opinion which we may express publicly after the fight.

Tex Rickard has cut the price of 7000 $5 tickets to $3. If that doesn't bring on an eleventh-hour bargain rush he might offer double trading stamps. The turnover's the thing.

Cheerio!

By way of taking his mind off the coming fight Gene Tunney wound up his training program

by reading a book called "Fear of Death."

"Bullets Outweigh Ballots in Mexico."

Indicating an unusually heavy vote.

Tex Rickard reports that all the $10 seats and nearly all of the $30 ducats have been sold.

Indicating that instead of cutting the price of $5 tickets to $3, Tex should have boosted it to $10.

They seem to like it.

No Formal Protest Against Paddock

By the Associated Press.

AMSTERDAM, Holland, July 26.—No formal protest against the eligibility of Charley Paddock, California sprinter, has been made by Great Britain, the international Olympic committee announced today in a formal communique. The statement followed circulation of fresh and conflicting reports over the sprinter's status.

Paddock's status was brought informally before the international committee by the British delegate,

General Kentish, as a result of London newspaper reports of the California's radio talk on the 1924 Olympic finals in the 100

meter race, Paddock's talk, according to his own version, described how the four Americans in the finals of that race might have

"framed" the British star, Harold

Abrahams had they wished to use unsportsmanlike methods.

Paddock said he stressed the fact that the Americans had not done so, Abrahams defeating his Yankee rivals and capturing the Olympic

TILDEN WILL MEET LACOSTE IN DAVIS CUP OPENER TOMORROW

HENNESSEY TO MEET COCHET; LIFTING OF BAN SPURS INTEREST

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, July 26.—William T. Tilden will open the challenge round battle for the Davis Cup with Rene Lacoste of France tomorrow at 2 p. m.

The second singles match will be between Henri Cochet, France, and John Hennessey, United States, at 4 p. m.

With Tilden's reinstatement, France is looking for one of the most brilliant displays of tennis that has ever been seen in this country. Big Bill has not relaxed his energies in the slightest degree throughout the days of controversy and in the game he has played in the stadium he has shown himself to be in top form. If France wins the matches, as experts are inclined to believe she will, it will be no empty victory, as the fans feared it might be without Tilden competing.

A Diplomatic Stroke.
In accordance with the reinstatement of Tilden where all others had failed, Ambassador Herrick succeeded in scoring one of his greatest diplomatic triumphs. In his first venture into the diplomacy of the world of sport he endeavored himself still more to the French people.

The Ambassador realized that the withdrawal of Tilden from the American team caused such disappointment not only to France, but to sportsmen of all countries, that it brought the incident within the realm of international politics. The tennis authorities in New York, the Ambassador believed, could not appreciate the full degree of the feeling in France concerning the removal of Tilden from the team. He readily agreed when approached by the French committee to use his good offices in trying to settle the incident to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Culm Takes Responsibility.
Convinced by the arguments advanced by Herrick, President Samuel H. Culm of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, agreed to take the responsibility of putting Tilden back in his place on the team. This decision did not appear to cause him any acute distress when it was made, and, in any case, he must have felt amply repaid, by the relief of his French colleagues, amounting almost to radiant joy, when news of the decision was communicated to them.

In addition to their desire to have Tilden oppose their stars, his return means to them success in a financial as well as sporting way in place of almost certain failure.

As soon as the news of Tilden's reinstatement became known there was a rush of customers to the box office. Many of those who had canceled their orders for tickets returned trying to have them renewed, while many others were making a bid for the best seats.

MARINE FLYERS DROP BOMBS ON CAMP OF SANDINO

Reply to Attack Made by Insurgent Group Thought to Be Bodyguard of General.

By the Associated Press.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, July 25.
—United States Marine flyers are thought to have inflicted a number of casualties on the bodyguard of Gen. Sandino, insurgent leader, yesterday.

Three of the five planes which sought out the insurgent position near the Honduran border were struck by insurgent rifle and machine gun fire. The damage was not considered serious.

The Marines met the attack with machine guns, rifles and shov-ered bombs on the insurgent camp.

The air squadron was led by Maj. Ross E. Rowell, chief of the Marine Air Service in Nicaragua, and by Maj. L. M. Bourne Jr., who will succeed him shortly. Taking off from Managua, they headed for the district a few miles south of the Honduran border near the confluence of the Poteca and Coco rivers. A week ago planes flying over that region had been fired on without result and this attack gave the Marines the location of the insurgent position.

As the almen flew over the camp, which is a small lumber mill owned by a German named Guleke and had recently been seized by insurgents, they were fired on. The Marines immediately brought their rifles and machine guns into action and also dropped bombs on the camp.

Because of the dense growth of the forest it was impossible to learn the damage that had been inflic-ed. It was thought at headquarters, however, that a number of casualties had resulted.

Marine officers thought that the band attacked was the immediate bodyguard of Gen. Sandino. He is known to be in that district.

Brigadier-General Logan Feland, commanding the Marines in Nicaragua, had stated before word of the encounter reached headquarters that Sandino was near the border, which he sometimes probably crossed into Honduras but returned again to Nicaragua.

OREGON GROUP URGED TO SUPPORT PRESIDENT CALLES

Alfonso Saenz, Leader of Skin Chieftain's Followers, Appeals for Continuance of Policies.

BROTHER OF SLAYER RELEASED BY POLICE

Dangerous Element in Situation Now It Appears Is Bitterness Against Ousted Labor Official.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, Mo., July 26.—
The situation into which Mexico has plunged by the assassination of President-elect Alvaro Obregon
tainly today. Obregonista leaders confering to determine where their support on the question of presidential succession would be thrown.
They undoubtedly are in full control of the situation and if they remain united can dominate events of the immediate future.
A week has elapsed since the assassination without any major disruptions.
The most dangerous element perhaps is the bitter feeling against Alfonso Saenz, resigned Secretary of Labor, by some of the Obregon group. There have been charges that Saenz and his Laborite aids were a "psychological backward" by their opposition to Obregon which made his assassination possible.
Considerable speculation has been as to whom President Calles will appoint to succeed Saenz.
Among those mentioned is Manuel Treviso, Governor of the State of Coahuila, and a former Secretary of Industry, Commerce and Labor.
Saenz Urges Support of Calles.
Alfonso Saenz, Governor of Nueva Lepanto, who has assumed leadership of the various groups of followers of Obregon, announced yesterday
he would support President Calles.
He made the declaration in a statement setting forth the policy of the Obregonists.
Saenz appealed to Obregon followers throughout the country to uphold the principles of the revolution which were set forth in the late leader's platform. He said efforts would be made to maintain the harmony and unity of the Mexican family.
The statement expressed satisfaction with the efforts of the authorities in their investigation of the murder.
Saenz said the Obregonista party considered it its duty to consolidate the ties with the political institutions of the country in full support of Calles.
The party, he said, would superintend the integration of the Congress which is to deal with the situation arising from the killing of the President-elect, and will continue to function as before.
Presidential Question Discussed.
Those who conferred yesterday on the presidential question included Aurelio Manrique and Antonio Solo y Gama, agrarian leaders, and Ricardo Topepe of the Obregon bloc.
It seemed probable that either Calles would be asked to succeed himself as provisional president, under certain constitutional arrangements which might be made.
The police and military figures have been up in various parts of the country. Most of these, however, have remained in a formative stage and of gathering strength.
Saenz's Brother Released.
Alfonso's brother, released.
The brother of Obregon's assassinated, Jesus de Leon Toral, an official of the Federal army stationed at Vera Cruz, has been released by police after a short stay in prison.
The police are satisfied he had no knowledge of the crime.
Meanwhile, President Calles is keeping close to his residence. A night club and the rush of executive business since then, are assigned as reasons for his failure to appear at the funeral of Capt.
Miguel Carranza, Tuesday.
Dispatches from Villa Hermosa indicated that the Legislature has decided that the name of Port Fron-tera be changed to Ciudad Alvaro Obregon (Alvaro Obregon City).

With No Strike 20,000 Are Idle In Fall River, Mass., and 7000 Are Fed by Public Charity

Short Skirts and Southern Competition Blamed by Mill Owners for the Decline of Their Business.

By BASIL MANLY,
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1928.)
FALL RIVER, Mass., July 26.—
There is no full dinner pail in Fall River.
Here, in this great cotton textile center, with its 30 companies and more than 100 mills, industrial paralysis has taken hold and hunger walks the streets.
Fourteen hundred families—7000 or more men, women and children —are fed by the Public Welfare Department of the city and the number increases from week to week. Private charities, Protestant and Catholic, are caring for more than 200 other families.
One of every 15 families in Fall River is estimated, is receiving some form of charitable relief.
There is no full dinner pail in Fall River to account for this poverty and distress. On the contrary, the mill workers have patiently accepted one wage cut after another on the promise that this would enable the mills to get more orders and operate full time. But these promises have not been fulfilled.
Idle or on Part Time.
Employment in Fall River is today at its lowest level. Two-thirds of the workers, it is estimated, are out of a job or working only two or three days a week. The five mills manufacturing fine goods are doing fairly well, partly on orders which they have obtained as a result of the great strike of 30,000 cotton mill workers in nearby Bedford, which is now in its fifteenth week. The others, which produce the coarser fabrics, are either shut down completely or operating only part time.
Several great mills have been closed for more than a year. Some have been completely dismantled and their machinery, like New England's slaves of a century ago, sold "down South" to create new competition for this already stricken industry.
The grass growing in the mill yards and the workers' tenements —gaunt, unguiltily fire-traps built of wood a generation ago and seldom painted since—are now the looming places of thousands of idle workers. Men, women and children—French-Canadians, Portuguese, Italians, Poles and Irish, with a sprinkling of English—fill the yards and line the streets, seeking shelter from the sweltering sun and wondering where they will get food tomorrow.
Not a New Thing.
This is nothing new for Fall River. For five years, beginning with 1923, conditions have been growing steadily worse. And even in 1923 was merely a temporary relief from the industrial paralysis that set in soon after the war.
Those were the good old golden days—the war years, when orders came booming in wages doubled and trebled and manufacturers and workers alike believed it would last forever. The mills piled up big surpluses. The workers, with every member of the family on the job who was old enough to be sent to the front, put money in the savings bank.
It is well they were thrifty, for it is these war-time savings, plus city and private charity, plus money sent home by boys and girls who centured forth to New York, Detroit and points West, that have kept a large part of the population from even worse destitution. Even with all these allowances, it is a mystery how this little cotton city has survived the worst depression.
Poorly Paid Work.
Even if the mills were running full time at the present wage scale, the dinner pail would not be filled, according to American standards. The price of the cotton has fallen. The wages of the workers, "loom fixer," requiring a full week of experience, pays $25 a full week. Spinners, grown men who work at top speed, get $18 to $20.
And weavers, tending 16, 32 and even 64 looms under the modern high-pressure system, get only $16 a week, when employed full time.
The wages of women and children are correspondingly less.
It takes the whole family, therefore, to fill the dinner pail. Eighty per cent of the cotton workers live in the Fall River mills when they can get a job. When "Dad" and "Ma" and John and Mary all can find work and pool their wages, they can earn $40 to $50 a week and put away $10 to $15. But when jobs are scarce and the family must depend on the man's wages, it is hard to make both ends meet.
Short Skirts Blamed.
The cotton mill owners lay their troubles to the women and the South. What have the women got to do with it? Why, they cut off their dresses and quit wearing petticoats. "It used to take half an acre of cotton to dress a woman," one of the manufacturers told me,
"but now one silk worm can do the trick."
There is no doubt about the keenness of Southern competition.
Southern mills are growing by leaps

82 MEN AND WOMEN ARRESTED FOR PICKETING MILLS AT NEW BEDFORD

NEW BEDFORD, Mass.,
July 26.
By the Associated Press.
FOLLOWING a declaration of Judge Frank A. Milliken that textile strike picketing, as carried on, would have to be stopped, police last night arrested 82 men and women in the lines in front of the Sharp mill, where a serious clash occurred Tuesday night. Those arrested were charged with rioting. The raid on the mass picketing was carried out with the assistance of 23 policemen from Fall River.
Deputy Chief Chase, who headed the force, first warned the pickets against illegal parades and then, as the operatives continued their patrols, the officers drove back a large crowd of onlookers while Deputy Sheriffs read the riot act.

HOOVER CONSULTS W. J. DONOVAN ON PROHIBITION ISSUE

G. O. P. Presidential Nominee Advises With Assistant Attorney-General on Acceptance Speech.

STARTS ON FISHING TRIP SATURDAY

Plans Call for Auto Journey to Northern California and Oregon—Declines Invitations to Receptions.

By the Associated Press.
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal.,
July 26.—Turning his attention to the second of the two outstanding issues thus far developed in the presidential campaign—that of prohibition—Herbert Hoover is obtaining the views of William J.
Donovan, Assistant United States Attorney-General, and others on some phases of this subject.
There has been considerable speculation as to just what the Republican presidential candidate will say on the question which Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic nominee, thrust so prominently into the campaign immediately after his nomination at Houston, but some of Hoover's advisors say he has not yet made up his mind as to that.
As an index to what may be expected, however, they point to the nominee's own declaration in his reply to the questionnaire submitted to him by Senator Borah of Idaho, during the pre-convention campaign, and the pronouncement of the Republican platform adopted at Kansas City.
In the Hoover described probihibition as a "noble experiment" and in the other party pledged itself and the candidate to an honest effort at enforcement of both the Eighteenth Amendment and the laws enacted to carry it into force.
Donovan told Hoover that his candidate has found favor with many women in New York State.
Donovan, who is a resident of New York, predicted that Hoover will carry that State.
Farm Relief Discussion.
The Republican standard bearer already has obtained the views of many party leaders on the other big issue—farm aid—and that section of his address is almost in complete form, although the nominee may make some revisions in this.
This is Hoover's last day for conferences and work for perhaps a week, as tomorrow he will go to San Francisco for the homecoming celebration at the city hall there, and early Saturday morning he will start for the extreme northern part of the State for fishing and recreation.
As the schedule for the automobile journey has been worked out, Hoover will pursue his favorite sport both in Oregon and Northern California. During the first day his party will make a distance of 280 miles to Bull Flat, where the night will be spent.
Declines Many Invitations.
Resuming the trip early Sunday morning, the caravan will move to Grass Pass, Ore., to spend the night and for fishing in the Rogue River early Monday. After that the nominee will press on to Yreka, Cal., and from there to Browns Ranch, 93 miles distant where the celebration will be resumed in tributaries of the Klamath River. The return trip via Mount Shasta, and the Sacramento Valley will be started next Tuesday and Hoover expects to be back home by next Wednesday or Thursday.
On this outing Hoover will forget politics and for that reason he has declined the many invitations he has received from various points in California and Oregon for receptions.
Those invited to the Hoover home today included personal friends as well as political advisers. They included Charles L. Neumiller, California Republican State Chairman; Frank Flint of Los Angeles, former United States Senator from California, who has been identified with the progressive wing of the party; J. C. Hayes, publisher of the San Jose Mercury Herald, and George Gross of San Francisco, who was associated with Hoover in Australian mining enterprises.
Pope Wrenches Ankle.
By the Associated Press.
ROME, July 26.—Pope Pius showed no effects today of a slight accident which he suffered when he alighted from his automobile last Sunday. He twisted his right ankle but the injury was so insignificant that it did not require any attention by his physician or the application of any remedy. He has gone about his regular routine throughout the week, keeping all appointments for audiences.

Planning to Enlist Women for Hoover

PLANS for getting out women voters for the Hoover-Curtis ticket were discussed by this group who met in Washington with Mrs. Alvin T. Hart, of Kentucky, vice-chairman of the Republican National Committee. Front row, from left to right: Mrs. W. Bladen Lowndes of Missouri, Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, Massachusetts; Mrs. Hart; Mrs. Guy P. Gannett of Maine, Mrs. W. Reginald Baker of New Jersey, Mrs. Ellis A. Zost, West Virginia, and Mrs. Hugh Clarke of Ohio. Back row, left to right: Mrs. Mary E. Sharpe, Rhode Island; Mrs. M. Tucker, Vermont; Mrs. Nellie D. Parker, New Hampshire; Mrs. Virginia W. Speel, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. W. E. Kennan, North Carolina; Mrs. Charles Warner, Delaware, and Mrs. Mary Booze, Mississippi.

WARNS PASTORS TO KEEP OUT OF POLITICS IN FALL ELECTION

"You May Lose Your Pulpits"
President Mosey of Georgia Baptists, Writes.
By the Associated Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., July 26.—An open letter warning Baptist clergymen of Georgia to shun politics appeared today in the Christian Index over the signature of John D. Mosey, president for 16 years of the Georgia Baptist convention.
Citing at the outset "three great issues" in the presidential campaign, Mosey saw in them "enough dynamite to destroy the peace and harmony of any church."
"Bitterness and strife are going to have full sway all over our land," Mosey's letter predicted. "If you become a partisan you will lose the affection of nearly all those who oppose, of many of those whose candidate you espouse, and you may, in some cases, lose your pulpits."
By the Associated Press.
DENVER, July 26.—Several hundred members of the Order of Easter Star stormed the doors of the City Auditorium late last night when they were denied entrance to an executive session of the order's triennial convention at which the proposed revision of the ritual was up for consideration.
Attempts by Gov. John Hammill of Iowa, Phillip Jerguson, the new grand master, and other high officers of the order to pacify the members failed. One group of men formed a flying wedge and charged the ushers who guarded the door, while both men and women raised their voices in demanding admittance. Some shouted, "We've paid our dues. We support the grand chapter. Why all this secrecy?" Falling to gain entrance to the auditorium after an hour's demonstration, the crowd dispersed.
Whether the proposed change in the ritual was voted on was not announced.

TWO OF NINE YACHTS IN RACE TO SPAIN ARE STILL AT SEA

Asara and Zodiac Have Not Been Heard From; Pinta Takes Second in Class B.
SANTANDER, Spain, July 26.—
Six of the nine yachts which left
New York June 30 and July 7 for Santander in races across the Atlantic have arrived here.
One of the three remaining yachts, the small Rofa, met disaster and failed to complete its trip; two others, the Asara and the Zodiac, have not been heard from and their position is unknown.
The small Pinta, owned by William J. Curtis Jr., was the last boat to make Santander, arriving at 8:42 last night, second in the Class
B division because of its 18 1/2-hour time allowance, although actually behind the Nina and Mohawk in arriving.
The Pinta reported that during the first few days of sailing it approached what is thought to be a record for a small yacht, covering about 800 miles with a favorable wind. Then the boat fell into calms in which it achieved little or no progress.
The three-masted schooner Guinevere, owned by Edgar Palmer of Princeton, N. J., finished its course in the trans-Atlantic race at 7:01 o'clock. It was contesting Class A for the King's cup, won by the Elena. The Guinevere was third to that vessel and the Atlantic.

PROHIBITION BIGGEST SOCIAL PROBLEM, S. H. STRAWN SAYS

President of American Bar Association Insists It Should Be Non-Political Issue.
By the Associated Press.
SEATTLE, Wash., July 26.— Prohibition was called the biggest social problem confronting the nation today in the annual address delivered yesterday by Silas H.
Strawn of Chicago, president, before the American Bar Association.
He said, however, it should remain a non-political issue.
Strawn linked the increase of crime with scientific advance, instead of removed and that originally designed by him be placed in position. The original balustrade bore the inscription: "Destroyed by German hate, restored by American generosity." The Dean of Louisville University objected to the "war hate" inscription and carried his point.

RENEWED "WAR HATE" DISPUTE Architect Demands $55,000 From Louvain University.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, July 26.—The London
Daily Mail says Whitney Warren, American architect, is suing the Louvain University for $55,000 for

KELLOGG ACCEPTS CHINA'S PLEA FOR NEW TARIFF PACT

Attitude Taken by U. S.
Virtually Amounts to De-facto Recognition of Na-

MACMURRAY WILL NEGOTIATE TREATY

Note of State Department Declares America Welcomes Every Chance to Aid Chinese People.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 26.—Satisfied that a "new and unified" China is emerging from chaos and civil war, the United States is ready to negotiate a new tariff treaty with the Nationalist Government, granting to it thereby a limited de-facto recognition.
This was made known last night with the publication at the State Department of a note addressed to the Nationalist Minister of Foreign Affairs, authorizing Minister MacMurray to represent the United States in drawing up the proposed compact.

Reaffirming the attitude of the Washington Government toward China, the communication declared that America welcomes "every advance made by the Chinese people toward unity, peace and progress."
The United States does not believe in interfering in China's internal affairs, it continued, and asks only what is expected "from every nation with which we maintain friendly intercourse, specifically proper and adequate protection of American citizens, their property and their lawful rights, and, in general, treatment in no way discriminatory as compared with the treatment accorded to the interests or nationals of any other country."
China Suggested New Pact.
The Washington Government asserted that it expects the proposed treaty to give full expression to reciprocity to the principle national tariff autonomy and to the principle that the commerce of each of the contracting parties shall enjoy in the ports and territories of the other treatment in no way discriminatory as compared with the treatment accorded to the commerce of any other country.
The note disclosed that a new tariff treaty was suggested by the Nationalists in a communication transmitted to Secretary Kellogg on July 11 by Dr. C. C. Wu, the representative of the Nationalist Government here. Several months before, Secretary Kellogg had said that the United States was willing to enter into tariff negotiations with any government that "could represent or speak for China."
Together with the establishment of the joint commission for settlement of claims arising from the Nanking incident, the note was interpreted as according to the Nationalist Government recognition of a limited de facto form. It was pointed out, however, that if the negotiations result in the mutual ratification of a treaty giving China autonomy over rates to be charged on imported articles, the Nationalist regime will thereby be given virtually complete recognition.

Kellogg Outlines Policy.

"The good will of the United States toward China is proverbial and the American Government and people welcome every advance by the Chinese in the direction of unity, peace and progress," Kellogg said.

"We do not believe in inter- ference with their internal affairs.

We ask of them only that which we look for from every nation with which we maintain friendly intercourse, specifically proper and adequate protection of American citizens, their property and their lawful rights, and, in general, treatment in no way discriminatory as compared with the treatment accorded to the interests or nationals of any other country."

The note disclosed also the un- derstanding reached with the Na- tionalist authorities last March for joint commission settlement of the Nanking incident and that expres- sion was given at that time by the Washington Government to its sympathy with Chinese desires "to develop a sound national life" and to realize aspirations "for a sov- erignty so far as possible unre- stricted by obligations of an ex- ceptional character."

"It was stated" the note added that the American Government looked forward to the hope that there might be developed an ad- ministration so far representative of the Chinese people as to be ap- able of assuring the actual fulfill- ment of any obligations which China would of necessity have for its part to assume incidentally through readjustment of treaty re-

KELLOGG PACT TO BE SIGNED IN PARIS ABOUT AUG. 28

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, July 26.—The multilateral pact to outlaw war will be signed in Paris by Secretary Kellogg and the foreign ministers of the other signatory powers about Aug. 28.

The French Government's in- vitation to Kellogg to come to Paris is on its way to America, but it is understood at the foreign office that Ambassador Claudel, as a re- sult of his conversations with the American Secretary of State, has received in advance his definite promise to take part.

The twenty-eighth of August is a tentative date which may be ad- vanced or delayed a day or two to suit the convenience of the states- men.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in the editorial principles that it will always fight for progress or reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight democracy of all parties, never belong to any party, always support privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely passing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

The name and address of the author must accompany every contribution, but on request will not be published unless not exceeding 200 words will receive preference.

The Choice for Circuit Attorney.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
THERE are three or four men who will not see. Can it be that the Democrats will accept as a candidate a man who has the O.K. of a discharged employee of the present Circuit Attorney?

In the choice of candidates—when there is one for any office who stands out from all the rest, marked by his splendid qualifications and record—why should we demur? Why not pledge ourselves and our assistance to the man who is on record as the one who will not grant favors? This means justice for you and me and all the rest of us.

I refer to Judge Franklin P. Miller—Democratic candidate for Circuit Attorney.

In regard to favors—I am sure too that if ever a case presents itself where "justice needs to be tempered with mercy" he will not be found wanting. His disposition of every case will be based on justice for society and the individual and the best interests of both.

If he succeeds in obtaining the nomination, it is said that many Republicans who recognize his worth will support him in the general election.

FAIR PLAY.

Responsibility for Prisoners.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I read an article regarding the release of a prisoner by mistake. In which you state that the responsibility for this mistake could not be definitely fixed. Here I wish to state the responsibility can be definitely fixed on the Sheriff's Office. The City Jail does not keep books for the Sheriff's Office and only cares for and keeps in custody the prisoners the Sheriff turns over to him. Section 1929 Revised Code.

When the Sheriff receives a prisoner from the jail he gives a receipt for him. This receipt I have. What happens while the prisoner is in the hands of the Sheriff is of no concern of the Jail. What the charges are against the prisoner is a matter of record in the Sheriff's Office.

A similar case happened before, where a prisoner was taken to the wrong courtroom by a deputy and released, where he should have been taken for trial to the Criminal Court instead.

The prisoner, Syrett, released on the 15th of July was taken by the Sheriff's Office to the following courts:

April 24 to Division No. 1, May 1 to Division No. 2, May 11 to Division No. 2, May 15 to Division No. 1, May 25 to Division No. 2, June 1 to Division No. 2, June 2 to Division No. 1, June 18 to Division No. 1.

F. J. PRIMAVESI,
Warden, City Jail.

The Neglected West District.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

YOUR editorial "St. Louis in 1928," speaks of what the city may be by that time. The City Plan Commission visualizes ahead and recommends changes to rejuvenate dead or dying sections of the city.

Judging from the progress made in the last 25 years, the growth of population has been westward. It is also apparent that the section east of Fourth street, from the north to the extreme south of our city limits, is gradually made use of by railroads and heavy manufacturing.

Such being the case, is it not an unwise plan to try to resurrect property that was once in its day the heart of the city, but long ago has lost its value to the new center of our population?

Do you believe a double deck Third street, from Poplar to Franklin avenue, will resurrect this section to its former importance? Do you not think the future will make this district warehouse and shipping district? Is it not a fact that all large cities made use of all available creeks and small rivers adjacent to them as carriers of barge and water craft, so as to make it convenient for all sorts of the city to get cheap water transportation?

Do you believe the present so-called improvements now under way on the River des Peres will help make a big city? Had the earlier city authorities looked ahead, the little stream could have been improved and made of some use as a fresh water canal, and not have been permitted to become a continued source of trouble and expense to the city.

WARREN C. TAUB.

"Red Hot!"

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
HAVE the police no authority to stop the bawling of hot tamale peddlers after bedtime? This goes on night after night and hundreds of residents are awakened, often after 1 o'clock a. m. by the racket. The shouts ought to cease by 10 o'clock at least. A policeman should be detailed to give warning to these noise makers. No one in these quiet residence districts is awake to purchase these articles and the huckstering at unseasonable hours is superfluous. I and my neighbors do not believe any law permits these disturbances and annoyances.

A. R. WILSON.

AN OIL DYNASTY PASSES?

The Rockefeller pre-eminence in oil seems to be fading. The first open rebellion against the legendary authority of that dynastic name occurred recently when Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Indiana Standard, refused to resign the chairmanship of the board of Indiana Standard at the request of John D. Rockefeller Jr. The request and refusal were a sequence to Col. Stewart's dubious department before the Senate committee's investigation of the Continental Trading Co., which culminated in the witness' indictment for contempt of the Senate, on which he was tried and acquitted, and a subsequent indictment for perjury, which he is yet to answer. Since then Mr. Rockefeller has been reported at intervals as determined to oust Stewart, but news now comes that Stewart has intrenched himself securely as head of Indiana Standard by obtaining majority control of the stock through ownership and by proxy. That the board of directors of the company is dominated by Stewart seems clearly established. Meantime, something equivalent to a merger between Indiana Standard and Sinclair consolidated is accepted as a fait accompli by Wall street, an alignment which is pregnant with signs and portents.

If, as surmised, the Standard of Indiana withdraws from the Standard group and operates henceforth, not as a Rockefeller offspring but on its independent own, in alliance with Sinclair, something like a revolution in the organization of the oil industry may be looked for. This alliance, it is intimated, may be seriously embarrassing to another Standard child, Prairie Oil and Gas, whose profitable customer, Indiana Standard, will be supplied by Sinclair production—certainly through Sinclair pipe lines.

That the Standard group will quietly acquiesce in such a dislocation of its present scheme of operation seems unlikely. Indeed, the omens point to a roaring war for supremacy between the Standard interests and the Sinclair-Stewart coalition. And in the midst of these presentiments the Napoleon of the Rockefeller dynasty has been banished by the years to the St. Helena of old age, and the heir apparent, John D. Jr., for all his admirable qualities, seems too gentle a princeling for the thunder and trappings of such an industrial Armageddon.

So aving the cycles of history, Fuit Illium. "The captains and the kings depart." The Rockefeller scepter is about to pass, perhaps, into younger sturdier hands.

TILDEN.

Public opinion in the case of Tilden was too strong for the United States Lawn Tennis Association. Europe and America both thought its summary removal from the Davis Cup tournament of America's foremost player was factious, and the association came to that belief itself. The player has therefore been reinstated.

The line drawn in Tilden's case was impossible. He was charged with having violated the rules for amateurs by writing of the matches in England too much from the viewpoint of a participant, as if there could be any agreement upon the exact point of view of an amateur player permitted to write at all.

We hope the American team, already excelled by the French, does not get as badly rattled as that.

MUNICIPAL COMEDY.

Successful as the Municipal Opera, it hardly surpasses in comedy the hearing held at the city hall this week on the Illinois Terminal ordinance.

A Mayor Miller presided. After protests had been made by residents of the North Side against establishing a grade crossing at Cass avenue and creating a freight depot, with its clutter of trucks, at Twelfth street and Lucas avenue, a number of industrialists whose plants will be served by the railroad, and several real estate men, spoke generally in favor of the ordinance as a progressive step with out replying to the specific objections made to it. Nobody denied that it would be reversion of stated municipal policy, which Mayor Miller himself has hitherto indorsed, to create any more railroad grade crossings in the city. Nobody undertook to say that a freight depot located so far from all the other freight depots, indeed, in the very heart of the downtown business section, would not become a nuisance.

It was after those present had spoken that the Mayor introduced the municipal comedy. He asked all those who opposed the ordinance to stand up. This was a surprise to the people who had gone to the meeting to make their objections, some of whom represented organizations. Nevertheless, they stood up. When they were counted they numbered 42. The Mayor then asked those who favored the ordinance to stand, excluding from the ballot all employees of the company. Those favoring the ordinance were found to number more than 100. The ordinance therefore won, and the Mayor has subsequently announced he will sign it.

We do not imagine the municipal opera has beat that. There should have been a vote upon the ordinance. Any such franchise should be granted only after it has been affirmed by referendum. That is the only possible safeguard the people can set up, and it is one they have sorely needed in this case.

THE VANDEVENTER AVENUE CASE.

The 17 property owners on Vandeventer avenue who, in prompt compliance with a formal order, remodeled or moved their buildings in order to expedite the widening of the street, have a sound grievance against the city administration. Their spokesman, Frederick H. Swift, has stated their case in the Post-Dispatch. On Feb. 21, he says, they were notified by Director of Streets Brooks to move their buildings back 20 feet within 90 days. They have done it. Now they learn from W. W. Horner, engineer of street construction, that it will be impossible to pave the street until next year. The Board of Aldermen, it is explained, will have to pass an ordinance authorizing the paving, and as the board will not meet until Sept. 26, when the year's construction season is ended, the work will have to be postponed until 1929. Further, Mr. Horner's department, it seems, has not submitted the necessary construction ordinance.

So the property owners who co-operated with the city to hasten this improvement are, so to speak, out on a limb. They face an experience similar to that of the merchants on the south side of Olive street, who were practically marooned all last winter. But the delay in paving Olive street was due to the litigation of obstinate property owners.

The delinquent in the Vandeventer avenue case is the city administration. In that delinquency Director Brooks, Engineer Horner and the Board of Aldermen all apparently share. In the opinion of the Post-Dispatch the responsible officials should make special efforts to see that those Vandeventer avenue property owners are not penalized for their act of good citizenship. The Board of Aldermen might becomingly interrupt their summer vacation to pass the required ordinance. Or the Mayor, in this emergency, might very well issue an executive order, not merely as a matter of justice to the Vandeventer business men, but as a matter of plain honesty.

THE CIRCUIT COURTS.

No graver advice could be given the people of St. Louis at this time than that they interest themselves in the men who will emerge from the primaries and the subsequent election to control the Circuit Courts.

The Post-Dispatch has already urged that voters in both parties concentrate upon either Miller or Freund for Circuit Attorney, pointing out that if they do not do so they may have in the election a choice between Sidener and Rowe. The office of the Circuit Attorney is too important to suffer from such neglect. The record of Sidener over 18 years has grown steadily worse. The Motlow case, the Rutherford case and the Ferguson case, all in his latest term, are enough to bring down the wrath of any community which does not want the solemn processes of justice to collapse under its very nose.

It is unlikely that there has ever been a time since St. Louis was incorporated when the morale of the Circuit Courts was as low as it is now. The press has repeatedly called the attention of the people to the bad practices which obtain there. It has exposed conditions which no people who believe in justice should tolerate. Indeed, the situation is so bad that the people are in terror of gangs enjoying the indulgence of political courts and prosecutors, and are in despair of justice except by official favor.

The remedy for this deplorable state of affairs lies in the hands of the people of St. Louis. They will be fully informed by the newspapers as to the fitness of candidates in the primaries. If bad men are nominated, the people will be told how they can keep them from getting into office, if a way remains. What are they going to do about it? Are they going to surrender meekly to the underworld, which is in control of the city?

The Post-Dispatch hopes they are not so blind to their own welfare. They have two weeks in which to decide.

William F. Varney of Rockville Center, L. I., is the prohibition party's candidate for President. Bishop Cannon please notice.

TUNNEY AND HEENEY.

To Tom Heeneey, the New Zealand blacksmith, who has shot mules, nothing seems impossible; but evidently people do not believe he can beat Gene Tunney.

It is the experience of Americans that foreigners cannot beat an American heavyweight champion. They have been trying to do it a long time without succeeding, though as recently as Dempsey's heyday the wild bull of the pampas, Firpo, knocked Jack out of the ring in the first round. The man from the Argentine lost the fight, but he gave a good account of himself while he lasted. Mitchell could not whip Corbett, nor could Carpenter beat Dempsey. There is no good rush for seats at the fight tonight. The tradition is too powerful.

Possibly there will arise some time a giant who can do what Heeneey is trying to do, but there is no sign of it yet. The best the foreigners can hope for is a comfortable fortune. That is what Heeneey will get—$100,000 whether he wins or loses. It beats shooting mules, but it doesn't beat Tunney. Probably some member of the home guard will have to beat Tunney.

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE AS HIMSELF.

William Allen White made a partisan political speech to a Kansas audience a week or two ago in which he described Gov. Smith as a terrible person who as a legislator had always stood faithfully by the saloon and the gambling house and whose election to the Presidency would endanger "the standards of our Puritan civilization."

Interviewed in New York the other day, on the eve of his departure for Europe, Mr. White was the pleasant observer whose shrewd humor and intellectual honesty so frequently adorn the news. He was in a quizzically frank mood.

Of Mr. Coolidge he said: "We need a crusader on this prohibition question and the little fellow in the White House is not a crusader by any means."

To another question concerning the Secretary of the Treasury's distillery interests: "I have no more use for Mellon than I have for Murphy (the late Tammany leader). The only difference between the two is that Murphy is dead."

As to the Democratic candidate: "Al Smith is a fine man. I know him personally. He would make a fine President, but he never will be elected."

What is there about partisan politics that make slanderers of scholars, liars of gentlemen and bouncers of philosophers? There's a theme on which Mr. White could write a corking essay. The title might be: "Confessions of an Empiricist."

The I. T. franchise must have "it."

ABOUT THAT CUP RACE.

The transoceanic race for the King's cup was won by the yacht Nina, which finished ahead of our St. Louis entry, Gerard B. Lambert's Atlantic, by a ribbon of daylight some 24 hours wide. We accept the royal verdict as beluddy yachtsmen and good sportsmen, and never a chirp of foul play will go dancing over the waters from St. Louis.

Just the same, there is a mystifying angle to this contest which we hope Alfonso will look into some fine, bright morning in old Madrid. This much is known of all men. The Atlantic swung gracefully into the lead at the start and through days and days of blimping ways and blue, beguiling sea those other tubs were eating her foam. Something happened near the Azores. Something always has been happening near the Azores since the day that Sir Richard Grenville, after wallowing the Spanish fleet, died in the best Tennysonian manner.

Far be it from us to intimate that anybody scrambled for the Atlantic's lee scuppers, or reefed her top-sail, or battered her hatches, or ran in a cold deck, or gave her a sock on the prow. It is not for us to say that any dark or dirty work was done within the shadow of the treacherous Azores. That is Alfonso's job and, without threat or intimidation implied or expressed, St. Louis, in one voice from modere to cabin boy, is telling him he'd better attend to it.

IT SEEMS THERE'S A BIG FIGHT ON TONIGHT

A $10,000,000 Election

From the New York World.

IT is probably a fair estimate that places the cost of the 1928 campaign at $10,000,000. The last three campaigns have cost five and a half, six and a half and four and a half million dollars, respectively, exclusively of expenditures for Congressional elections. And if Congressional expenditures are included, an estimate of $10,000,000 does not seem excessive. For, as Senator Moses told the newspaper men, this is no ordinary campaign and it may very well prove to be the most warmly contested campaign since 1892. A golden horde of dollars pours into the party coffers, with a little prodding by the campaign managers and the average man surveys this spectacle and is moved, perhaps, to take a somewhat cynical view of what is happening. Seven million dollars, even eight million dollars, ten million dollars, will be spent in 1928 for the election of a President, a Vice-President, a Senate and House of Representatives which combined salaries are not a tenth of the smallest of these sums and the average man may shake his head and call it fishy business. Someone, he may observe, plainly expects to "get something out of it."

Someone plainly does. But it is not necessarily a chance for "grat" that constitutes the prize for those who contribute to this horde of dollars. Hundreds of thousands of dollars will be contributed by the campaign by devout drys who will expect nothing in return except a policy of hands off the Volstead law. Hundreds of thousands of dollars will be contributed by sincere wets who hope that the election of Gov. Smith will pave the way for a change in the Volstead law. Hundreds of thousands of dollars will be contributed by devout Republicans who sincerely believe that the country would go to the dogs under a Democratic administration, by devout Democrats who are Democrats because their grandfathers were Democrats, by devout Klansmen who are disturbed by a Catholicism and by devoted ladies of the D. A. R. who cannot stomach the idea of a brown derby in the White House. And all this money will be contributed for purposes which, if not disinterested, are at least not corrupt. And all of it even if it reached a total of $10,000,000 will not constitute a sum which is glaringly in disproportion to the sums of money spent for other purposes in the super-organized America in which we live. It costs money to compete for the public's attention in 1928. And if this nation now spends a billion and a half dollars every year to advertise the products of its busy factories, a sum less than 1 per cent of this amount may not be too much to spend on the quadrennial election of a government.

It is not in money given to political parties for reasons that are open and above board that there is mischief. These sums may be large; the individual voter may decide that their total is too large in the case of one party or the other and cast his vote accordingly. But at least he will know what he is doing. Under the amended Corrupt Practices act and the pledge of both parties to file a statement of contributions every 30 days, the voter will be kept informed of contributions as they come along. And if he finds J. P. Morgan & Co. listed as contributing a million dollars to the campaign of either Gov. Smith or Mr. Hoover, he can decide for himself whether this fact constitutes a valid reason for him to change his vote.

is first, in the fact that campaign contributions may not be honestly reported by being hidden under dummy names; and second, in the fact that however honorable the contributions are the expenditures which are made from them may be dishonorable and entirely corrupt by the time large sums of money have filtered down into the hands of ward bosses, for the purpose of "getting out the vote."

Here there is no law or rule which is infallible in the matter of protecting the public interests. There is only the hope that by turning as much publicity as possible on the whole affair any irregularities may be revealed, and the hope that the campaign managers and the campaign treasurers will play the game squarely.

If four Franklin D. Roosevelts were acting as managers and treasurers of both parties now, we believe that the country would be perfectly confident about both contributions and expenditures. If four Will H. Haynes were serving in the same positions, we believe that on the basis of Mr. Haynes' efforts to disguise the Sinclair "loan" in 1923 the country might be skeptical, it boils down to a question of confidence in men and confidence is won by a record of square shooting.

"ALL MODERN CONVENIENCES."

From the New York Herald Tribune.

THE guests who are first to occupy rooms in a new modern hotel are disappointed if they do not discover some aid to their comfort which they have never before found in a caravansary. Sometimes it is a reading lamp so shaded as to make easy the perusal of the Gideon Bible always to be found in the top drawer of the dresser. Sometimes it is a particularly shining full-length mirror on the bathroom door or a a shaving mirror over the washstand, so arranged as to enable them to see the napes of their necks. Often it is a new device attached to the shower or gaudily tinted shower curtains to delight their eyes. It is not to be expected that any of these things, except the Bible and the soap and the cloths for scrubbing razor blades and wiping the dust from boots and the snot from hands, will be portable. The guest may always be in the right, but the hotel man is wise not to trust to his power to differentiate between what is his and what belongs to the incorporated host.

Inasmuch as some great new hotel is completed almost every day in this land of mobility, it is impossible to say that supplying guests with chained corkcrews is the very latest wrinkle. Yet we heard of it only a few days ago. Time was when Bibles were chained in houses of worship, so that they could be read with no danger of losing them. There is less danger of that today, so the Gideon volumes are unattached. But corkcrews are easily slipped into pockets, and chaining them is safer. This practice, beneficial as it is to the guests, is equally beneficial to the hotel. The custom of enveloping a bottle in several folds of towel and thumping it against the door jamb to force out the cork is bad for the towel and worse for the door jamb. When in moments of extreme need the neck is broken off by a sharp blow over the rim of the bath tub, the glass goes into the rugs and the enamel on the plumbing is nicked. The cost of corkcrews is slight, and when securely attached to a ring bolt embedded in the concrete wall they last a long time. Hotel guests should be grateful for them, as beyond a doubt they are.

A VERY ACADEMIC QUESTION

A sculptor who is designing two eagles for the Coolidge Dam in Arizona, the eagles on some of our coins are modeled after the eagles on the dollar bill. The passion for mirroring things as they are, which prompts such a strictness, we feel that the artist has confused art with finance. Fifty-ton concrete eagles mounting a dam, must look like the conservative model in eagles. Old people might mistake them for one of the modernist renditions in concrete of a then dancer. A 50-ton eagle, on the other hand, will be as conspicuous as a woman's flask in the hip pocket of a woman in a suit. But the eagle on money is real. So far as the money, per se, is concerned, the eagle could be supplanted by a dollar eagle on a dam are symbolic; they merely fill up blank space on the coin. The question is, is it real money? If it could have a whole series of eagles, it but no one would want it. A $20 gold piece with the strangest design of an artist's conception of what an eagle should look like on it is worth less than a lead quarter with an exact reproduction of an authentic eagle on it remains a quarter.

If the candidate is really to win the states, why is the campaign fund—necessary?

First French lawyer: Are you still practicing law?

Second ditto: Yes; very still.

Action is equal to reaction and is opposite direction, except when you miss golf ball completely.

Curtis, we understand, will do the speaking during the Hoover campaign, and Work, we guess, will do most of the explaining.

"My contribution to the campaign this year," remarked the late wit, "was judicious enough to cause no time."

Sometimes we feel that the only politicians announce they will work for the candidate knows it, even if results prove it.

Couldn't You Possibly Make It Some Card Stud?

Sir—I would like to know when you can "sit in" on a nice, refined, fashionable, "two-bit" limit, blind-poker game, without frequenting saloons.

Works, Volume Two

HAROLD, THE WEBBER, OR THE YOUNG VIKINGS. Being Volume Two of the Life and Works of Trader Horn. By Alfred Aloysius Horn and Ethelreda Lewis. (Lewis & Schuster.)

DOUBTLESS the fairest way to deal with this second volume of "The Life and Works of Trader Horn" would be to discuss it as an excellent indication of what modern publicity can accomplish with the uncritical crowd. Crowds are always uncritical of the persons whom they accept. In the use of the word here no scorn is felt for the individuals who lose themselves in the crowd, since so large a proportion of them are capable of better judgments as individuals, and it is not uncommon in our day to witness the surrender of otherwise superior mentalities to the powerful, unconsidered moods of the Many. In an urban civilization it is difficult to resist such moods, and it is decidedly not profitable.

Certainly to discuss Trader Horn's "Works" wholly from the standpoint of literary values would be to miss the point by a ridiculous wide margin. The "value" of the work is in the fact that it is the work of a man who has been habituated by persistent and far-reaching publicity to accept it as the mark of a desirable line of goods. Fortunately, this mental-food product contains no deleterious ingredients and may be eaten in any quantity without effect. In a time when so many books are concocted of subtle poisons and devoured with indiscriminate gusto, this may be taken as high praise.

It seems that Mr. Alfred Aloysius Horn created this second volume of his works, and another yet to be published, before his first volume became one of the immortal masterpieces of a publishing season. In the present volume he gave us reminiscences of his early life in Africa and there was not a little therein to arouse a lively suspicion that Mr. Horn was gifted with a considerable creative faculty. In the former work he gave us reminiscences of his early life in Africa and there was not a little therein to arouse a lively suspicion that Mr. Horn was gifted with a considerable creative faculty. In the present volume he gave us reminiscences of his early life in Africa and there was not a little therein to arouse a lively suspicion that Mr. Horn was gifted with a considerable creative faculty.

The tale is hardly as clear in the reading as the foregoing sketch would seem to indicate. Occasionally one is surprised by a vivid picture flashing out of the general consistency of the narrative, or by some oddly felicitous phrase, but it is inconceivable that any publisher anywhere would have accepted the story for its intrinsic merit.

It seems that the whole Trader Horn affair is concocted in the spirit of a literary side-show, and the hulloho in front of the tent is of the familiar sort. It is to be noted that Mr. Horn is generally praised, even by those who are most extravagantly complimentary.

Works, Volume Two

THE WEBBER, OR THE YOUNG VIKING. Being the second volume of the Life and Works of Trader Horn. By Allyn Aloysius Horn and Ethelreda Lewis. (Lewis & Schuster.)

DOUBTLESS the fairest way to deal with this second volume of "The Life and Works of Trader Horn" would be to discuss it as an indication of what modern public opinion can accomplish with the aid of a well-timed and well-written book. Crowds are always uncritical of the persuasiveness they accept. In the use of the word here no scorn is felt for the individuals who lose themselves in the crowd, since so large a proportion of them are capable of better judgments as individuals; and it is not uncommon in our day to witness the surrender of otherwise superior mentalities to the power of the unconsidered moods of the many. In an urban civilization it is difficult to resist such moods; and it is decidedly not profitable.

Certainly to discuss "Trader Horn's" works wholly from the standpoint of literary values would be to miss the point by a ridiculously wide margin, for their value is of the supposititious sort that is created by imitative masses and is not a part of the work itself. "Trader Horn" is a valuable trade name in the business of book production and distribution, because large numbers of people have been habituated by persistent and far-reaching publicity to accept it as the mark of a desirable line of goods. Fortunately, this mental-food product contains no deleterious ingredients and may be eaten in any quantity without effect. In a time when so many books are conceived of as subtle poisons and devoured with indiscriminate gusto, this may be taken as high praise.

It seems that Mr. Alfred Aloysius Horn created this second volume of his works, and another yet to be published, before his first volume became one of the immortal masterpieces of a publishing season. In the former work he gave us reminiscences of his early life in Africa and there was not a little therein to arouse a lively suspicion that Mr. Horn was gifted with a considerable creative faculty. In the present volume he is frankly creative, telling a tale of certain young Vikings who ran away from home in search of adventures and booty, realized much of both, saw the great "Sensar" (1) himself and returned home triumphant.

The tale is hardly as clear in the reading as the foregoing sketch would seem to indicate. Occasionally one is surprised by a vivid picture flashing out of the general confusion of the narrative, or by some odd felicitous phrase; but it is inconceivable that any publisher anywhere would have accepted the story for its intrinsic merit.

It seems that the whole Trader Horn affair is conceived in the spirit of a literary side-show, and the ballyhoo in front of the tent is of the familiar sort. It is to be noted that Mr. Horn is generally praised, even by those who are most extravagantly complimentary.

DANISH ART DISPLAY TO BE OPENED SUNDAY

Wide Variety in Government Exhibit at Forest Park Museum.

The Danish Government's exposition of painting, sculpture and applied art, on tour of 10 American cities, will be placed on show in the City Art Museum on Sunday—that is, a fraction of it. The whole would cram the museum. It fills 300 packing cases and runs the range of Danish art—150 paintings, 50 pieces of sculpture and innumerable examples of silversmithing, ceramics, including the famous Copenhagen porcelain, stoneware, elevations and photographs of modern Danish architecture, book-binding, lace work, furniture.

All that could be done was to skim the cream with a liberal allowance for present-day painting. What a riot that painting! The modern Danes have surrendered completely to the modern, the ultra-modern French, Cezanne, Matisse and Picasso. In St. Louis viewers must struggle to find any meaning in the great daubs of color, with little or no drawing. Masses that can but suggest goodness knows what.

But the sculpturing and the modeling in stone and ceramics have no such perplexing quality. Let one strange place on the south wall of the central gallery of the north wing be commended to attention. It is "The Bull and the Lion," executed in Roche ceramic, a material of rough hardness and reddish black color. It depicts a lion landed upon the back of a bull and is the work of Jean Gaudin, son of the renowned French painter, Paul Gauguin. Another is the "Monkey Group" by Knud Kyhn, a thing of brutish realism.

Danish silver possesses a world-renowned artist with many imitators, Georg Jensen, and Danish porcelain, the famous Royal Copenhagen porcelain, first notable in the early '80's of the last century for the creation of Arnold Krog, the naturalistic decorated underglazed porcelain, of which there are many fine examples in the show.

When the Danish exhibition was unpacked for the first time in America, in the Brooklyn Art Museum, 26,000 persons viewed it in the first few days. It was assembled by the Danish Government to show to the United States, for the first time, the complete sphere of Danish art—an art that in its every form, whether painting or craftsmanship, roots itself in the daily humble life of the Danish cottager.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, July 26. JOURNALISM in New York strikes me as being in drastic need of an anti-knocking organization. The French stand up for the French and heaven knows the English stand up for the English, but American journalists spend their time roasting each other to a nice autumnal brown.

There is a clique in New York, for instance, that when left alone praise each other and when accused of log rolling roast each other, but they are rarely interested in anybody outside their group, one way or other. The reason is they are so in love with themselves they never heard of anybody else.

A critical viewpoint has become an obsession with many writers. They pore over the work of contemporaries for a mixed metaphor or a split infinitive. A split infinitive just tickles them pink. As a matter of fact, good grammarians agree there is no reason why the infinitive should not be split.

The Fowlers call it "a curious superstition." Conrad split infinitives all over the shop. Shakespeare and Wells used like as a conjunction. Perhaps it is because we are a young nation we have become so intolerant. Age brings tolerance. The reading public yawns at verbal snafus.

Recently an entire volume of abuse under the title Menckensiana was published. It was filled with excerpts from bombastic tirades for the Baltimore playboy. Sinclair Lewis is a close second in the punning. Yet Mencken retains his following, and the Lewis books sell like hot cakes.

An honest survey of the field would reveal a renowned French writer as those knocked hardest by fellow workers. Technicians pant over grammatical absurdities, but the audience that pays for the writer's cake is interested only in the story and how interestingly it is told.

NEW YORK BANKS RAISE ACCEPTANCE RATES

Advance Indicates Early Increase in Demand for Commercial Funds.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 26.—An advance of 1/4 to 1/2 per cent in bank acceptance rates was made yesterday.

At the new rate of 4 1/2 per cent, acceptances are within 1/4 to 1/2 per cent of the Federal Reserve rediscount rate. Commonly at least 1/4 per cent separates the two, raising a question as to whether the advance in acceptances might not presage a similar increase in the Federal Reserve rate. The rate recently was raised to 5 per cent. The Philadelphia Reserve Bank yesterday joining six others which had placed their rates at that level.

The increase in the acceptance rate was taken as definite indication that the autumn demand for commercial funds is drawing near. It is estimated that more than $100,000,000 will be required for fall crop movements, after which comes fall business financing and then the Christmas demand for funds. Consequently no reduction in the acceptance rate, highest since October, 1921, is looked for before early in 1923.

Time money has ruled at 6 per cent for several weeks and call money has been slightly lower, with Wall Street regarding money at these levels as rather "tight." Now that the commercial demand for funds is increasing, expectations are that time and call money rates will seek even higher levels, while corporation funds, which have been invested in the money market in sizeable amounts, possibly may be withdrawn to meet commercial needs. This would tend to make the credit situation even more stringent.

Bankers expressed regret that acceptance rates in this, reputedly the wealthiest country in the world, should rule so far above those of other nations. They were inclined to ascribe the cause to continued exports of gold, more than $500,000,000 having left this country since last September.

In Wall Street the new acceptance rates of 4 1/2 bid by dealers and 4 1/4 per cent asked, means that borrowers using acceptance credits must expect to pay from 5 1/4 to 5 1/2 per cent, while customers' loans and open market paper must be marked up accordingly.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE TO STABILIZE COTTON PRICES

Business Men Also Cotton Planters to Meet at Dallas, Aug. 6.

By the Associated Press.
DALLAS, Tex., July 26.—A conference to determine a profitable price for cotton and to stabilize the price will be held here Aug. 6 under auspices of the Farmer's Marketing Association of America, President W. B. Yeary announces. The call for the conference was signed by Senator John Davis, W. S. Kirby, John J. Simmons and T. W. (Whit) Davidson, together with other members and directors of the association. Davidson will preside. Business men, bankers, representatives of Chambers of Commerce throughout the South and cotton farmers are expected to attend. Methods to prevent price influences on the profitable price from either authorized or unauthorized crop reports will be sought.

"It is not a question of 'Can the price of cotton be made stable and profitable,'" Yeary said. "It is only a matter of informing the people how it can be done and then 'educating' them in the belief that it cannot be."

NEGRO PRISONER'S SHOUTS FRUSTRATE JAIL DELIVERY

Deputy Sheriffs at Clayton Find Two Hack Savers and Heavy Bottle in Cells.

A jail delivery at Clayton was frustrated early today by a Negro prisoner, whose shouts, "They are trying to get out!" were heard by Deputy Sheriffs, who discovered two bars leading to an outside corridor sawed through.

Deputy Sheriffs Kick, Reinke and Rainey, on duty in the Sheriff's office in the Courthouse, which adjoins the jail, rushed over to the jail when the Negro prisoner, who had called Kick's name, began his shouting. A search of the cells of the 14 prisoners in that section of the jail where the bars had been sawed disclosed two hack saws and a heavy thermos bottle, which it is thought the prisoners planned to use to slug the jailer when he brought them their breakfast this morning.

Following a rumor yesterday afternoon that there was to be an attempt to break all prisoners and their cells were searched, but nothing was discovered. It is thought the hack saws were smuggled to several murder suspects in the jail by an accomplice, who was arrested for questioning. Six prisoners escaped from the Clayton jail early this year by sawing the bars of a window and dropping 20 feet to the ground. All were recaptured.

G. O. P. TO MAKE FIGHT TO CARRY ALABAMA

For First Time in 50 Years Republicans Will Contest National Election There.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—For the first time in more than half a century, Alabama Republicans will wage a State-wide campaign in the national election this year.

Since the reconstruction days of the seventies the Republican party has had no chance of carrying the State, hence the Republicans have never before made a campaign before a national election. This year, however, the State Republican executive committee has invited the anti-Smith Democrats to vote for Hoover for President. The committee will meet in Birmingham Aug. 20 to choose 12 Hoover electors whose names will be placed on the ballot at the November election. Among these electors it is expected will be anti-Smith Democrats and three or four women.

Alabama has the most drastic State prohibition laws in the Union. A majority of the people of the State or prohibitionists. Many say they will not support Gov. Smith on account of his position on prohibition. The Republican party will make a bid for this vote.

Many clergymen say they will not vote for Smith; some of them have denounced the New York Governor from their pulpits and have advised their members to vote for Hoover. The Women's Christian Temperance Union, the Antislavery League and the Ku Klux Klan also have denounced Smith. In many sections of Alabama an open fight is made by some Protestant ministers against Smith on account of his religion.

The Republican party of Alabama has opened State campaign headquarters at Birmingham, O. D. Street, Republican national committee man, writes Hoover may carry Alabama next November.

On the other hand, Democratic leaders are confident that Alabama will go Democratic just as it has for more than 50 years. The natives of Alabama will never vote the Republican ticket, they say, on account of the past traditions of the party and the memory of the Negro and carpetbag rule in the South which followed the close of the Civil War. However, they admit that the Democratic majority

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS PEACH PROSPECTS SUMMARIZED

Good Crop With Moderate Prices Is Predicted in Most Sections.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CENTRALIA, Ill., July 26.—The Illinois Fruit Growers' Exchange, with State headquarters in Centralia, has made public the result of a survey of the peach crop of this section of the State. In the survey it included an estimate of the Centralia Growers' Association, which estimates about 60 carloads of peaches this year. The association has made arrangements for one or two of its large crops to be packed outside of the central packing sheds.

Estimates from the Mount Vernon Association indicate that it will have about as many peaches as last year, 12 or 15 carloads. The Texico Association should have 25 carloads of fruit, while the growers of Patoka and Sandoval should have up to 30 carloads. Growers at West Liberty have estimated their crop all the way from 50 to 100 carloads.

Growers in the Villa Ridge district should start shipping about Aug. 5, and the association expects to have about 60 carloads there. Between 20 and 25 cars are estimated from the Jonesboro area. From the Carbondale-Etherton Association approximately 40 carloads will be shipped. In addition to these associations there are a number of growers who may have some carloads that will go through the exchange. These will include those around Harrisburg, Brownsville, Carmel, Lawrenceville, Alton, McLeansboro, Mount Carmel and Benton. With the crop situation in Georgia and all other fruit producing areas in the United States it now stands, the exchange does not hold out for securing high prices this year.

SAYS COOLIDGE'S ANGLING IS SOMETHING OF A JOKE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PARIS, Mo., July 26.—Prof. M. D. Thomas, who has just returned from a fishing trip in Northern Minnesota, says President Coolidge's fishing in the Brule River is looked upon as a joke both in Wisconsin and Northern Minnesota.

According to the natives of the vicinity, the President is fishing for lake trout. On the Pierce estate the pools are short and the fish protected and fed regularly. This was stopped about 10 days prior to the President's visit in order that the hungry fish would bite readily. Sitting in a wicker chair fastened in the front of a canoe, the President is paddled by an Indian guide to the likely fishing spots, to cast his lure at his leisure.

There is considerable conjecture among the natives as to whether the President baits his own hook and takes off his fish or not. Cowboy Contests at Kansas Picnic.
KINGMAN, Kan.—Kansas cowboys will compete in frontier sports at the annual cattlemen's picnic here the first three days in August. Company A of the 10th Battalion of Engineers, Fort Riley, has agreed to take part, and will march overland from their headquarters to Kingman.

$20,000 FALSE ARREST JUDGMENT AFFIRMED

C. B. & Q. Switchman Alleges He Was Maliciously Prosecuted as Car Robber.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, July 26.—A judgment of $20,000 for James A. Foster of Kansas City, against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Co. and Frank Vest, a special officer for the company, for malicious prosecution, was affirmed yesterday by Division No. 2 of the Supreme Court.

Foster, employed by the railroad as a switchman, was arrested the night of June 14, 1923, by Vest, in the company's yard in Clay County, on a charge of entering a freight car with the intent to steal automobile accessories. The evidence showed he was rushed into a preliminary hearing without an opportunity to procure counsel, was bound over to the Clay County Circuit Court and was confined in jail until his trial on July 5, 1923. He was acquitted.

Testimony at the trial on the criminal charge showed the foreman in charge of the switching crew instructed Foster to enter the freight car, which had one door torn off and was otherwise damaged, to determine its contents before it was placed on a repair track. The car bore no shipping card, it was testified, and it was necessary to learn the contents so it could be set out according to the class of the car and its contents. The special agent was in the car and arrested Foster as he entered, carrying a lantern, and placed him in jail over the foreman's protest that Foster was obeying orders.

The railroad employed special prosecutors and several special agents who had not participated in the arrest testified against Foster. Commissioner Edward Higbee, who wrote the opinion, held it was clear that the prosecution was instigated by "Vest's false and perjured complaint and evidence," and commented on the activity of the railroad and its agents in the trial.

One Thin Woman
Gained 20 Pounds
In Three Months

The chief cause of underweight, lowered vitality and strength is improper assimilation of your food. Your food doesn't get into the blood and give you the necessary nourishment.

First correct this condition—then lovely shaped and developed legs, a body of superb curves and enchanting roundness, perfect health with an abundance of vitality will soon be yours.

McCoys Tablets are highly recommended by science to put on pounds of firm, healthy flesh—to create energy and vigor in a surprisingly short time.

Miss Catherine Friel of Florida, writes: "I started taking McCoys Tablets 3 months ago when I only weighed 108 pounds—now I weigh 128—My chest was so hollow and is filled out now."

McCoys takes all the risk. Read this iron-clad guarantee: If after taking 4 Sixty-Cent boxes of McCoys Tablets or 2 One-Dollar boxes, any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoys' Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoys Tablets at Wall-Wilcox Drug Stores or any drug store in America.

CHICAGO POLICE CHIEF RESIGNS ON MAYOR'S DEMAND

Michael Hughes Out—W. F. Russell, Appointed Acting Commissioner, May Hold Post Permanently.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, July 26.—Again the ax has fallen upon a member of Mayor Thompson's regime. Michael Hughes, referred to by the Mayor as the "best crook catcher in the world," last night admitted his resignation as Commissioner of Police had been in the hands of the Mayor for some weeks. At different times in the past, reports of Hughes' resignation have been denied promptly by the Mayor.

Ill health was given as the reason for the resignation, but it was reported that the Corporation Counsel Eitelman had demanded it at the request of the Mayor.

Hughes, who was recovering from an operation for the removal of his tonsils, at first doubted the sincerity of the demand, saying he had heard nothing but praise from Mayor Thompson. Later, with a trace of emotion in his voice, he said: "All right, if the Mayor wants my resignation, he can have it."

A letter of resignation already drafted was handed to him and with a pen borrowed from a nurse, the Commissioner signed his name. Deputy Commissioner William E. Russell will be appointed Acting Commissioner today, it was said.

Mayor Thompson today appointed Deputy Commissioner William F. Russell Commissioner of Police. The appointment is effective Aug. 1 when Russell will decide whether to take the post permanently. Until then he is acting commissioner. General Shakeup Reported. Several Deputy Commissioners were to be demoted to their former

The resignation of Hughes followed closely that of City Comptroller Charles C. Fitzmorris last week. These changes are but two of several made in the Mayor's cabinet since his election for the third time in April, 1937.

Youthful Pep Comes Back in Middle Age

Hundreds Now Regaining Lost Vigor and Energy

Marvelous tonic guaranteed to bring results in 12 days

Why let old age come on before its time? There's no reason why middle-aged people can't be as active, energetic and full of pep as young folks.

Hundreds have already learned the way to win back their youthful pep—the tireless energy and endless strength in which they once abounded.

A fine old prescription, known as Phospho-Cod, does the trick. Its success has been so astonishing that Walgreen Drug Stores guarantee it absolutely. They make you this offer: If, in twelve days, Phospho-Cod doesn't double your pep and energy, they will refund what you pay for it.

Phospho-Cod brings you the pep-restoring, health-building peptides of cod livers, together with purifying action and hypophosphites which drive the poisons that weaken the system. And it's a pleasure to take it, for it has a flavor like rare old wine.

Don't be satisfied another day without your full share of pep and energy. Get Phospho-Cod, and let it bring you back to that condition of body and mind which makes you equal to any job, however big. Win back the strength and vigor which enable you to finish the day strong, with plenty left for the day after. Phospho-Cod is present well within the means of everybody, and is on sale at all

The upper picture, at the left, shows the Russian ice-breaker, Krassin, starting out on her successful search for members of the ill-fated Italia North Pole expedition. Above, at the right, is Prof. Samoilovich, head of the Russian relief expedition. At the left is Capt. Egge, skipper of the Krassin, and directly above these lines is the Russian aviator, Chukhnovsky, who found the "walking party" of the Italia and led to the rescue of its two survivors by the Krassin.

WHERE LATEST GANG MURDER TOOK PLACE

I'LL TELL THE WORLD

By Neal O'Hara

MEDICAL MOVIES NEXT.

THE most beneficial use to which talking movies will be put is illustrating important surgical operations. Employing sight and sound, the foremost surgeons can have their technique preserved forever while they lecture and operate simultaneously before the Klieg lights.

It won't be long now.

Scene—An operating room. Klieg lights over the operating table. Movie camera in the background. Interns rush into the room with a patient on a stretchers.

INTERNE—Quick, doctor! An emergency operation. This man swallowed a horse chestnut and it's in his left lung.

SURGEON—Oh, boy! Some break! What a fat role I'll have in this operation. (He starts sterilizing his instruments.)

MOVIE DIRECTOR—Just a minute, doc. You're just the type for this lung operation. But how about the nurse?

SURGEON—Miss Adams will assist me, as usual. She's the best anesthetist in the place.

DIRECTOR—Well, she's out so far as this picture's concerned. No sex appeal. How about that little blonde I saw taking temperatures a minute ago?

SURGEON—Miss Wump? Oh, she doesn't know the first principles of administering ether.

DIRECTOR—Well, she's the baby that does it in this super-feature, just the same. She's got it.

(Miss Wump, the beautiful blond nurse, is summoned.)

DIRECTOR—Now kiddo, we want you for the feminine lead in this picture. The plot is this guy on the table has a horse chestnut in his left lung and the doc here performs the operation. When I say "Lights," you slap that cone over his beaver and keep telling him other till I tell you to top. All right, boys. Lights!

(Miss Wump starts giving the patient ether and the surgeon starts to operate.)

DIRECTOR—Hey, Miss Wump don't look at the patient while you're etherizing him. Look out that window and let us have your profile. That's it—right against the soft light. . . . Now, doc, that may be a neat incision you're making, but those surgical sponges are in the way. What we want is action and a nice, deep slash. . . . Hey, Miss Wump, instead of feeling his pulse, hold his hand and register love.

NURSE—But if I don't check up his pulse beat, he may die.

DIRECTOR—Say, whose picture is this, his or mine? Go on, now—give us lots of that pretty profile, hold his hand and sigh. That's more like it. . . . Fine work, doc. You got that lung opened nice and big. When you take the horse chestnut out, turn half way round and give us a close-up. . . . Easy, now; easy. Out with the horse chestnut. Now smile. Now take a bow. Now sew up that incision quick before we have an anti-climax. . . . Miss Wump, you start stroking his hair and shed a few tears.

NURSE—But that isn't the way to bring a patient out of ether.

DIRECTOR—No, but it's the way to end a picture. . . . That's a baby. Do as I say. . . . Say, this is great. Good work, doc. Three more stitches and you're through.

CAMERA MAN (to director)—Hey, Mr. Goggles, I just discovered I ran out of film two minutes ago.

DIRECTOR—Damn! SURGEON—Ye gods!

NURSE—Oh, dear, and I did so well.

DIRECTOR—Well, we'll have to start all over and have a retake. Miss Wump, put him under ether again. And, doc, horse chestnut or no horse chestnut, you've got to operate on that other lung.

Rust and Ink Stains

NOTHING is so effective for removing iron rust stains as the juice of a lemon and some salt. Cover the stain with the juice, then sprinkle on the salt and put into the sun to dry. If any of the stain is left, repeat the process until it is all gone.

The milk bath will remove ink stains from any kind of fabric, especially if used right soon after the stains are made. If iodine has been accidentally spilled on clothing, table linen, bed clothes, or even linoleum, apply a paste of flour and cold water. Leave until it dries, then brush it off. This will also remove iodine stains from the skin.

Square Armholes for Sport.

square armholes are one indication that the tennis dress is the latest expression of the designer. This is one of the newest styles for the frock that is constructed of either plique or of wash silk. Always there is some sort of matching coat to complete the costume.

Celery Sandwiches.

A celery sandwich to serve with the salad course. Three tablespoons of minced celery, 1 tablespoon of cream cheese, 1 teaspoon of minced parsley, salt, pepper and enough olive oil to make a paste. Spread on buttered bread and cut into fancy shapes.

A DISH FOR TODAY

Stuffed Flank Steak

ONE AND ONE-HALF cups stale bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 onion minced, 1 cup chopped celery, 2 tablespoons butter.

Wipe the meat with a damp cloth. For the stuffing, brown the celery and the onion lightly in the butter and combine with the other ingredients. Spread the stuffing over the steak. Beginning at one side of the steak, roll it up like a jelly roll and secure in several places with clean string. (When carved in slices, the meat will be cut across the grain.) Sear in a small quantity of fat in a baking pan on top of the stove, turning the meat frequently until browned on all sides. Cover closely, place the meat in a moderate oven and cook for one and a half hours, or until tender. When the meat is done, remove from the pan and prepare gravy as follows:

Drain off the fat. For each cup of gravy desired, measure 2 tablespoons of fat and return to the pan, add 1 1/2 to 2 tablespoons of flour and stir until well blended and slightly browned. Then add 1 cup of cold water or milk and stir until smooth. Season with salt and pepper. Serve the stuffed steak with browned potatoes.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaels

SATISFIED.

TOO much of praise is sometimes meant.

When others call a man "content,"

Content is good, and yet it seems

To spell forgetfulness of dreams.

And all bright wizardry of youth

When eager hearts go seeking truth.

What leads man on from goal to goal?

Content? Not so the human soul

Has sought and conquered Earth's far verge;

But driven ever by some larger rest

Man vanquished sea and mountain crest.

And, soaring up on shining wings,

Has ventured where the planets swing.

Too often all man's best has died

When he is wholly satisfied.

ETIQUETTE

By Katherine de Peyster.

FULL DRESS.

IT is proper for a groom to wear a full dress outfit, if his bride does not wear a veil at an afternoon wedding.

Yes, he may wear formal day clothes—cutaway coat and dark striped trousers—even if the bride does not wear a veil.

THE FORMAL REPLY.

By Katherine de Peyster.

Y mother received an invitation that read like this:

The Blank Club

Invites

Mrs. Durkins

to a

Tea at four o'clock

Y. W. C. A. Sutter and Mason Streets

R. S. V. P. Helen Andrews

—Chestnut Street,

Los Angeles

I would be very pleased to have you tell me just what is the correct way for my mother to answer this invitation. My mother is going to accept the invitation.

O. D.

The invitation is a formal one, and should be answered by a formal acceptance, that is, in the third person. Like this:

Mrs. William Durkins accepts with pleasure the kind invitation of the Blank Club to a tea at the Y. W. C. A. Clubhouse on Friday, the first of August, at four o'clock.

The acceptance should be addressed to the woman whose name and address is on the invitation, on the right of the card.

HOPE CHEST GIFTS.

HAVE a friend who is just starting her hope chest. Would it be good taste to give her something for it as a birthday gift? What would you suggest? E. P.

Yes, it would be excellent taste for you to choose a birthday present with a view of its appropriateness to your friend's hope chest. Some tea napkins, for instance, embroidered with her initials, would be a perfect gift for her "high destiny" of a hope chest.

Or some hand towels, monogrammed also. Or a dresser cover. Or some of the amusing and artistic kitchen towels that are to be purchased nowadays—with the quaint or fantastic figures on them. Or any old piece of linen that would find convenience in the new home.

A YOUTHFUL GODMOTHER.

WAS I asked in January by my cousin, who has lived with us her parents having died when she was very young, has asked me to be godmother to her little son. She is almost like a sister to me and I would love to. But do you think I am too young?

R. J. W.

I have never heard of anyone so young as you, dear friend, being a godmother. But I see no reason why you should not be. If your cousin wishes to have you, since you love her and her baby, and since you wish to take this important spiritual responsibility, you will probably have a mature vision and a deep sense of what you are assuming. You handwriting shows a very mature mind, too.

But since the answer to this question depends on you and should be answered by someone who knows you, I urge that you talk it over with your clergyman or priest and see what his judgment would be.

Giblet Soup.

To the giblets of a chicken, duck or turkey add 2 sliced carrots, 1 turnip, 1 onion and 1 quart of water. Let this simmer for several hours. During the last hour of cooking add 2 spoonfuls of pearl barley, salt and pepper. You will be surprised at the savory soup you have prepared. Of course, the greater the number of giblets the stronger the soup.

Roasting Meat.

When roasting a piece of meat it should be cooked quickly at first to sear the outside enough to hold in the juices. Then the temperature of the oven may be lowered to prevent burning.

Children's Bedtime Story

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

THE DARING OF SCRAPPY.

He is not brave who knows no fear; I hope I make my meaning clear.

King Eagle.

HUSH had fallen over the Old Orchard. Just a moment before it had been a busy, noisy place. There were many families in the Old Orchard and the feeding of many mouths required a great deal of going to and from and hunting for worms and insects and other things. There was much chattering and the cries of hungry youngsters, who were as greedy as they were hungry. And now all this had ceased. Not a sound was to be heard in the Old Orchard. And it was surprising how all the busy feathered fathers and mothers had disappeared.

Away off in the distance there was a speck in the sky. Sharp eyes had seen it and sharp eyes were watching it. It drew nearer and nearer. At first it was thought to be one of the Hawk family, but now the sun was shining on a white head and a white tail. It was King Eagle.

Now there was no particular reason why the feathered folk of the Old Orchard should be particularly afraid of King Eagle. He doesn't waste his time hunting such small folk. He doesn't visit the Old Orchard. But after all he was like a great Hawk in appearance. Besides, he was king of the birds and everybody, or almost everybody, is in awe of a king. There were just two in the Old Orchard who were not filled with awe. One was Hummer the Hummingbird and the other was Scrappy the Kingbird.

No sooner did King Eagle get fairly over the Old Orchard than Scrappy flew to meet him. Finally Scrappy was only a speck in the sky. King Eagle was heading for the Great Mountains. Scrappy was satisfied that he would not return. So down shot Scrappy straight to his favorite perch in a certain apple tree. Around him gathered all the feathered folk of the Old Orchard to tell him what a brave fellow he was and how daring he was.

"Pooh," said Scrappy, "that was nothing!"

Famous Model Bleaches Her Skin

Betty Thatcher, well-known model and noted particularly for her own idea of a skin bleach, says no ready-made preparation "mixes her own." Her own words, in very brief, are:

"I use three ounces of Orchard White (the drugist and in this I add the put of a remarkably effective bleach. Massaged into face, neck, arms it softens and refines rough skin and bleaches red, yellow, faded skin to a clear, rosy white. This wonderful mixture can be used ready to use, for half of hour, or for the fact that it is used."

DRESSMAKERS MEET THE DEMAND FOR THE "ALL-DAY" DRESS

Most Women Want Something That They Can Put On in the Morning, Wear for Luncheon and Feel Smart Enough to Pay Afternoon Calls in.

From Doucillet-Doucet.

PARIS. HIS collection from which the models illustrating this article are drawn makes a transition in the history of Paris fashions. The most that is presented to the public in the famous house of the de la Paix will be the result of the joint talents of the firms of Doucillet and Doucet, working under a new regime.

As we have already announced, the two old-established houses are uniting forces so that their over-riding expenses may be diminished. The same ateliers, the same selling staff and the same clerical workers will be employed in producing and distributing gowns and coats for which formerly two houses were responsible.

For the past few years, owing to economic conditions, increased taxes, the high cost of materials of every kind, heavy taxation and other causes, the price of beautiful gowns has been growing higher. This has led to stop because the number of women able to pay such prices is limited, while the number of dressmaking houses continually increases.

New houses with famous names, employing the best designers, using the best materials and working under long-established traditions are able to produce gowns with a cachet that is unequalled anywhere in the world. But their expenses are heavy. If the standard of Paris elegance is to remain at its present high level something must be done to enable more women, Parisiennes and foreigners, to appear as chic as their taste would wish while keeping their expenditure within the limits of the average comfortable income.

DOUCILLET and Doucet are leading the way. It remains to be seen from the success of their venture whether others will follow in their wake.

From time immemorial the Parisienne has been renowned for her simple elegance in everything she wears. The street. She attracts the most fame in the days when the leading dressmakers of Paris were able to make gowns that were produced at prices the Parisienne could pay. The war has altered this. The Parisienne, while making her own clothes, has been forced to exchange made the subject a rare one where the Parisienne and women of more favored nations are concerned.

We believe it is quite possible, given the right business methods, to produce such simple gowns, bearing the unmistakable hallmark of a leading couturier, at prices that will bring them within reach of women who even before the war were not able to dress entirely in first-class houses. It may be said that the methods we shall adopt for the running of our business are inspired by America. This is all to the good, for everybody knows that American business methods are admirable. Everything connected with the actual designing of the dresses, the fabric, cutting and fitting will be absolutely Parisian.

AS is well known, the Parisienne always dresses with great simplicity in the street. The great campaign for what is called "femininity" in dress will not woe her from this habit, for she is always feminine in whatever she wears. Much as dressmakers would like to introduce more elaborate styles for the afternoon, the fact is to be faced that the majority of women, when ordering a day dress from a first-class house, want something they can put on in the morning, wear for luncheon and feel smart enough to go on and pay afternoon calls if they wish. The green crepe de chine gown with a scalloped corsage that is cut so that the scallops turn down into flat pleats on the skirt is ideal for an "all day" dress. One would not wear it for a vigorous walk in the Bois de Boulogne, but during the season in Paris few women are but taking exercise more strenuous than a gentle stroll before luncheon.

Worn under the coat that accompanies it, the whole ensemble is simple enough to be in keeping with shopping in the Rue de la Paix, in Bond street or in Fifth avenue. Yet the dress itself has sufficient individuality and chic to be suitable for luncheon at any fashionable restaurant and would not be out of place at the dancet in the Bois de Boulogne during the summer months.

The crepe satin dress, with its elaborations of the shiny surface of the material applied onto the surface, is perhaps more essentially an afternoon gown. But it, too, is suitable for a smart luncheon, so it may be included in the category of smart as well as useful.

Of course, as the summer goes on, we shall make dresses of printed silks and foulards for the afternoon. Even printed chiffons are chic for the daytime, as well as for the evening during the height of the season, the "Grande Semaine" at Auteuil and Longchamp and afterward in London for Ascot and Goodwood. There are many charming de-

The softening effect of navy blue satin with a becoming quiet and ruffles at the wrists. The simple cut of the jumper skirt makes this gown suitable for luncheon or any town occasion.

Business Women Going to Europe

Fifty American business women are sailing for Europe with the object of studying the personality and problems of their prototypes abroad. If findings indicate a community of interests their expedition may lead to eventual international organization of business and professional women.

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, which is sponsoring the tour, expects to send representatives from more than half the states in the union, recruited from a score of professions and branches of business.

During six weeks of travel in England, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland and Italy the party will be entertained by women leaders in business and professions abroad. Viscountess Rhonda, Great Britain's foremost business woman, director of 25 large companies and a peeress in her own right, will be hostess to the group during part of their stay in England. Lady Nancy Astor will also entertain them. In Germany Frau Clara Mende, who has been a member of the German parliament for 10 years, has arranged a program in their honor.

The travelers style themselves "ambassadors of goodwill" and their journey a good will tour. Miss Lena Madson Phillips, an attorney of New York City, heads the party as the official spokeswoman.

No Changes.

Why is it men resent changes in the arrangement of furniture in a room? Perhaps if the economical side were pointed out to them in regard to the wear on rugs and furniture they would comprehend more quickly than the fact that a change seems good to the housewife who is home so much.

tails that make this season's fashions particularly attractive. One of these is the prevalence of scarves and little fluttering ends that appear on the midsummer dresses, both plain and printed. Belts, too, introduce individual touches. A great feature of this summer's frocks is the belt that is made in suede or some other leather to match the gown with which it is worn. The belt on the green crepe de chine gown is of green suede with lines of silver that match the lines of silver stitching that outline the scallops on the corsage.

An evening fashion that has been much favored by the house of Doucet is that of carrying a large chiffon handkerchief with an evening gown. This may be edged with lace to match the handkerchief or have one corner made of lace. Some women prefer the handkerchief to be entirely made of chiffon and have their monogram embroidered in large letters in a contrasting color. Whether the handkerchief matches the gown or whether it is made of a bright color to contrast with a black or white gown, the fashion is a charming one and intensely feminine.

The lines of evening dress will not be fundamentally changed for the present. The long dipping hemline, with the impression of movement that is conveyed by the upward tilt in front, has proved so becoming and attractive that women would not encourage any attempt on the part of dressmakers to substitute anything radically different. Nowadays fashions evolve gradually. One season's mode is the natural and logical result of what has gone before. This is partly due to the fact that most of us are more appreciative of the beauty of line than we were a generation ago. Nowadays everybody knows a great deal about art. Photography and the cinema, illustrated newspapers and magazines, have brought a knowledge of the classic beauties of Greek and Roman art before the general public instead of its being confined to a privileged few. The result of this is a general taste and demand for beautiful lines in modern fashion. It may be subconscious, but the modern woman is strongly influenced by sculptural beauty. She watches tennis players with their graceful movements, unhampered by restricting corsets or cumbersome frills. She sees dancers performing marvels of grace and souplesse. In fact, modern life is a series of movements that bring into play the exquisite lines of Greek sculpture, so for some time to come, it may be for a very long time, the main trend of fashion will be a simple line that accentuates the beauty of the feminine figures and gives it grace and freedom in all the activities of modern life.

Women's Hair Costs Half-Billion a Year

WOMEN'S "crowning glory" costs them $136,000,000 more annually for upkeep than men's sleek hair and shaven chins combined. R. Louis, Paris and New York beauty specialist, estimates. Haircuts and shaves for the masculine population put $484,400,000 in the pockets of the nation's barbers, while women pay a total of $591,000,000 for waxes, shampoos, bobs and the like, according to a survey made by him. Approximately 19,700,000 American women spend an average of $1.25 every two weeks in hair dressing, cutting, waving and washing, Louis said.

Telephone Hygiene.

Wash the mouthpiece of the telephone at least once a week. Otherwise it is apt to spread germs from one person to another. A mild disinfectant will do away with germs and halitosis.

Peanut Brittle Ice Cream.

For the person who loves to try things "just a bit different" mix together 1 quart heavy cream, 2 cupsful top milk, ¼ teaspoonful salt, 2-3 cupsful sugar, 1½ cupsful crushed peanut brittle. Freeze.

EVERY CHILD NEEDS PLAYMATES

The importance of playmates in the development of the young child was emphasized before the department of kindergarten education of the National Education association at Minneapolis by Miriam Brubaker, nursery school director of the National Kindergarten and Elementary college at Evanston, Ill.

"The child who has the privilege of being one of a play-group meets a challenge to his mental capacities that the child who plays alone does not meet," she said. "Every day with any group of children challenging problems arise, and the success with which they meet them is due to the opportunity given the youngsters to work out their own salvation.

"The child must be alert when in this play contact with others. He learns through experience that he will lose out many times unless he is alive to the activity about him. Competition calls forth greater effort; imagination is aroused, and many other mental traits are stimulated.

"As to the emotional life of the child, we frequently see fears disappearing because of the activities carried on by others. Often the example set by one eradicates fear in a playmate and places the child on the road to self-confidence.

Pullman Car Courtesy

A READER asks whether there is "any set rule about who shall occupy which seat in the Pullman." The occupant of the lower berth is entitled to the seat facing forward during the day, while the upper berth passenger rides backward. It would, however, be but natural courtesy to ask the "upper" lady whether she objects to riding backward, and if she does, to invite her to share the other seat with you. If she accepts, of course, you are entitled to the choice in the seats and may occupy the window seat if you prefer that.

The Missouri Branch has charge of the work in 17 states, including the state of Missouri. There are about 1500 chapters. HISSES GREET ITALIA CREW ON LANDING IN NORWAY

Hostility of Crowd Apparently as Noble and His Men Transfer From Vessel to Train at Narvik.

SWEDES ON SHIP LOUDLY CHEERED

Commander of Arctic Expedition Appears to Be Broken Physically and Mentally.

NARVIK, Norway, July 27.—The North's farewell to the survivors of the Italia when they started for home was hisses. Today they were rushing southward in a special car to Italy, where they will face an inquiry into their fatal trip to the Pole.

Cheers sped the airship on its way when it departed from Vadsø on May 5 for the Arctic and the town was decked with bunting and flags in their honor. Hostility kept them aboard their base ship, the Citta di Milano here yesterday until the train was ready to take them home.

Gen. Umberto Nobile, commander of the dirigible, looked like a man broken physically and mentally. He was pale, thin and stooped and his haggard face showed plainly the strain of worry and illness.

When the Citta di Milano arrived at the little place of Fagernes, about two miles from Narvik, the crowd waiting on the quay ignored the appeals of the Italian crew to take the mooring rope cast ashore. A sailor was forced to jump to the quay to tie the ship and finally a boy of 11 pitted them and helped in the mooring.

Hostile Cries Greet Zappi. Capt. Filippo Zappi, navigator of the airship, appeared on deck, intending to disembark to buy some clothes. There were hostile cries from the crowd on the quay and he decided to remain aboard the ship.

There was a military air about the vessel. Marines with fixed bayonets stood guard over the gangplank.

Nobile did not appear for some time after the ship had been moored. He was working in the cabin and it was stated he had been spending much time compiling a report of the expedition. He now has recovered sufficiently to stand without a stick, but still is much broken down.

During the afternoon the Italians appeared on the deck of the vessel. Natale Cecconi, motor chief, whose leg, broken in the crash of the airship, was bandaged, appeared to be the merriest. He jumped around on crutches with a great cigar in his mouth.

Nobile seemed ill when he appeared, wearing civilian clothes with his gloves in one hand. He smiled a bit when talking to his companions aboard but appeared to be nervous and absent-minded. His past sufferings were manifest and this seemed to have a restraining effect on the onlookers.

When the survivors landed Radio Operator Giuseppe Biagi came down the gang plank first. He threw himself in the arms of his brother, who was awaiting him. Cecconi followed, refusing help. Nobile still seemed nervous when he said farewell to the officers of the Citta di Milano. He walked down the gangplank feebly and nearly stumbled.

Crowd Hisses As Men Land. A large crowd had assembled on the quay by this time. There was some hissing, but no disorder and only two policemen were present. The members of the Swedish relief expedition, who are traveling to Stockholm by the same train, were loudly cheered as they boarded their car.

The passage of the Citta di Milano from Spitzbergen to Narvik was very slow. It was stated that this was because Capt. Alberto Mariano was still very ill.

Mariano's leg became frostbitten while waiting on the ice for rescue with Zappi and it was amputated after he and Zappi had been rescued by the Russian ice breaker Krusenstern on July 12.

The Citta di Milano will return to the Spitzbergen region to aid in the searching operations for the six members of the Italia, crew who drifted away in the big party.
